Turks Must Carry Out Treaty Terms or Get Out of Europe

Allies Give Turkish Government Ten Days Within Which to Signify Willingness to Sign Treaty; Note Is Couched in the Bluntest Language.

London, July 17.—(Associated Press)—A threat to drive the Turk from Europe "once and for all" is contained in the Allied reply to the Turkish objections to the peace treaty made public here to-day. Such action might follow Turkey's refusal to sign the treaty or her failure to give it effect, the reply states.

The time limit for Turkey to make known her decision expires at midnight July 27.

The Allies have arranged to deliver this reply, which takes the form of an ultimatum, to the Turkish peace delegation in Paris this afternoon. The Turks are informed that they must signify their willingness to sign the peace treaty within ten days, failing which the Allied Powers will take such action as they may consider necessary in the circumstances.

The Allied reply is couched in the bluntest language and says: "If the Turkish Government refuses to sign the peace—still more, if it finds itself unable to re-establish its authority in Anatolia, or give effect to the treaty—the Allies, in accordance with the terms of the treaty, may be driven to reconsider this arrangement and eject the Turks from Europe once and for all."

Germany Pledged to Deliver 2,000,000 Tons Monthly For Half Year

Spa, July 17.—The amended terms of the coal agreement between the Allies and Germany, signed at 8.45 last night by the German representatives at the conference here, are as follows:

"Second—The Allied Governments will credit the reparations accounts with the value of this coal as far as it is delivered by rail or inland navigation and valued at the German internal price, in accordance with paragraph 6 A of annex V of Part Eight of the Treaty of Versailles.

"Third—During the period of coal deliveries provided for in the above stipulations, Paragraphs 2, 3 and 4 of the draft control protocol of July 11, 1920, shall be put into force at once in the modified form of an annex hereto.

"Fourth—An agreement shall be made forthwith between the Allies for the distribution of the Upper Silesian coal output by a commission on which Germany shall be represented. This agreement shall be submitted for the approval of the Reparations Commission.

"Fifth—The commission on which Germany shall be represented shall meet forthwith at Essen. Its purpose will be to seek means by which conditions of life among the miners with regard to food and clothing can be improved with a view to the better working of the mines.

"Sixth—The Allied Governments declare their readiness to make advances to Germany equal in amount (Concluded on page 20.)

HARRY J. BOLAND BACK IN NEW YORK

Aide to De Valera Tells of His Visit to Ireland

New York, July 17.—(Canadian Press)—Having apparently eluded British authorities successfully a second time, Harry J. Boland, secretary of the Sinn Féin organization and aide to De Valera, who calls himself "President of the Irish Republic," turned up in New York yesterday, after a visit to Ireland. He left this city several months ago. About a year ago, Boland escaped from Ireland, where he was "wanted," and came to the United States to prepare the way for his chief.

In an interview, Boland said that the thing that had impressed him most in Ireland was "the absolute rooting out of the British spy and police system."

"I went about undisguised," he went on, "known to everybody." Boland says that the "Irish Republic" is becoming firmly established. "The 'republican government' holds sessions of courts of law, levies taxes and performs the ordinary functions of the Government, with far greater ease than the British Government ever succeeded in doing," he says.

This is authorized in an Order-in-Council just gazetted. Mr. Stefansson is to be given free grazing privileges for fifteen years, after which he will pay an annual rental of $11,500. Mr. Stefansson has represented to the Government that he has inter-ested sufficient capital to assure of the enterprise being successfully carried out.

This congress, in which representatives of Afghanistan, Syria, Turkey, Arabia, India, Persia, Azerbaijan, Crimea, Egypt and Tripoli are participating, is said to be concerned chiefly with filling the office of Commander of the Faithful in such a manner as to unify the Moslem world.

PREPARING TO TRADE IN WHEAT

Members of Winnipeg Grain Exchange Will Hold Meeting Shortly

Winnipeg, July 17.—It is officially announced by the Winnipeg Grain Exchange that a meeting of members will be called shortly to consider resumption of the open trading in wheat as permitted under the announcement made by the Canadian Government yesterday. In the meantime there is no arrangement for trading and no suggestion as to when it will be resumed.

Winnipeg, July 17.—The local trade was particularly gratified with the news from Ottawa that the Government had decided to allow the wheat market to open for free trading for the handling of the 1920 crop, and many members expressed the opinion that the trade would be prepared to assume the heavy responsibility. The Council of the Exchange has held several meetings recently in anticipation of such a step and has arrangements well advanced, but it is not probable that future trading will be permitted before the first of August.

The mediators sent out in an effort to reconcile the contending parties have returned to Peking, their mission having failed.

Dominion's Exports in June Were $106,537,835

Ottawa, July 17.—(Canadian Press)—A betterment of approximately $136,000,000 in the trade of the Dominion for the first three months of this fiscal year as compared with the corresponding period last year is shown in the first monthly trade statement authorized by Hon. R. W. Wignome, the newly-installed Minister of Customs. The statement, which is for the month of June, shows a total trade up to June 30 of $591,087,460. For June alone the trade total reached $243,187,288, or over $77,000,000 in excess of June, 1919.

Despite the big increase there was a falling off in exports of domestic goods during the three months, these representing a value of $237,256,759, from April 1 to June 30 last year. The decrease in the value of exports sent out of the country were to the value of $244,057,736. For the past month of June alone, however, the exports totalled $106,537,835, as against $57,348,952 in June, 1919. The decrease in the value of exports sent out of the country were

Yacht Race May Not Be Completed Before Time Limit Expires

Shamrock, After Being Five Miles Astern of Resolute, Worked Up To Within Two Miles, But Wind Shifted; Contest May Not Count As One of Series.

Sandy Hook, N.J., July 17.—At 5.15 this afternoon, with Shamrock IV, five miles astern of the Resolute after turning the first mark of the triangular course, the second race in the series for the America's Cup resolved itself into a race of Resolute against the time limit, with two hours and a half in which to finish approximately fifteen miles.

At 5.45 Shamrock IV, was coming up fast and was less than two miles astern of Resolute, making it for the Resolute not only a race against time but once more a contest with the other yacht. The breeze was very light in the southwest.

At 6 o'clock chances of Resolute finishing the race in the time limit were rapidly falling as the wind was dead ahead and had dropped to less than three knots. Shamrock, more than two miles astern, also was fighting against the light wind.

Sandy Hook, N.J., July 17.—The American defender Resolute led the Shamrock IV, around the first turn to-day in the second race of the 1920 series for the America's Cup and started on the next ten-mile leg of the triangular course, a broad reach.

When the American sloop rounded the first mark, Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger was fairly a mile away, virtually becalmed.

LOOKS OVER COURSE FROM AEROPLANE

Associated Press Man Does Something Former Cup Racers Never Witnessed

From a Seaplane over America's Cup Race Course, July 17.—(Associated Press)—New York's outer harbor put on its best holiday suit of sunshine and favorable weather early to-day and waited for the signal which was to start the second event of the classic contest for international yachting supremacy between the British challenger, Shamrock IV, and Resolute, the American cup defender.

Across the vast stage already set with sharp drawn lines dividing land and sky and sea, officious little craft dodged in and out among their neighbors, streamers and flags aloft, making ready to assist or watch the spectacle.

To the north lay Coney Island and Rockaway Beach. Westward the highland coast of New Jersey was already being dotted with trains, motor cars and groups of spectators.

Of All Sorts. Before 10 o'clock vessels of every sort—supers—began to congregate, keeping a respectful distance from the Ambrose Lightship, out of deference to a dusky chorus of destroyers doing duty as traffic police.

The majority of the sightseers, brilliant with new white paint, were private or club yachts and steamed with a show of ostentation from the mouth of the Hudson.

Liner Lingered. Idly, like a truant schoolboy lingering to watch the bright parade, a liner flying a white star in a red field and the flag of Great Britain, loafed across the harbor, waiting for a view of the racers, which had not yet appeared. A series of rapid white puffs from alongside her funnel told the aerial observer she was tooting a greeting to her luckier sisters not enslaved by the laws of commerce.

At Anchor. From the aerial perch of the Associated Press observer the two rival yachts could be seen lying at anchor in the sheltered horseshoe behind Sandy Hook.

The spectators gathered for the second race included many more small craft than braved the squalls of rain and electrical storms of Thursday.

Shamrock Ahead. At 2.05 p. m. both yachts were holding the starboard tack, neck to neck. Three minutes later the defender was well to windward.

At 2.08 a wireless message sent from the destroyer designated as official press boat stated that both yachts were still holding the starboard tack with Resolute to the windward and Shamrock a trifle ahead, but unable to cross the defender's bow.

Shamrock to Leeward. At 2.15 p. m. both yachts were still heading for Long Island on the starboard tack. Resolute had increased her windward advantage to one-third of a mile. Shamrock, continually urged off to leeward to outfoot her rival, but although she forged somewhat ahead she was too far to leeward to profit by it.

The two loops were still holding on the starboard tack at 2.28, when they had covered a distance of nearly three miles from the lightship. At 2.30 o'clock Resolute had the (Concluded on page 4.)

The Start. Sandy Hook, N. J., July 17.—Resolute crossed the starting line ahead of Shamrock IV, to-day in the second international cup race. The starting signal was blown at 1.45 p. m. Resolute crossed at 1.46.28 p. m. official time, and Shamrock crossed at 1.46.37 p. m.

Slipped away. When the preliminary signal was sounded, the breeze was just sufficient to ruffle the water. Shamrock tried twice to blanket Resolute but each time the defender slipped away. At one time the boats were within a few feet of each other, sailing side by side. Seven minutes before the time set for the start Shamrock broke out a large reaching jib topsail.

Heeded For Line. The tide began to run out when Shamrock turned and headed for the line before the start. Resolute immediately tackled on her weather quarter, both heading for the line on the starboard tack. Resolute went by Shamrock to weather and crossed nine seconds in the lead, and fifty yards to windward. It was a complete victory for Captain Adams.

From the shore it was seen that the challenger pitched and rolled a little more than Resolute, whose sharp bow slid easily through the quivering sea.

Pointed High. After crossing the line, both ships stood away on the tack, holding as close to the wind as possible.

Resolute, in dashing south seemed to work better to weather than the challenger. Shamrock followed under her lee.

Captain Adams drove the defender high into the wind so that her jib topsail fluttered. Then he laid her off a bit and she ghosted along in surprising fashion. The challenger held her own quite well in footing. She seemed to fall a little to leeward all the time, with no strong wind to heel the yachts over.

A new touch was given to the races when a great naval dirigible and a flock of smaller aircraft followed the racing sloops.

OPIUM SHIPPED IN EGG CASES

Calgary, July 17.—Two thousand dollars' worth of opium shipped from Montreal to a Calgary Chinese resident and concealed in eggs, repose in the local police vaults.

When the Dominion Express Company delivered the eggs at the address to which they were consigned, some were broken and the contents were leaking through the containers. The consignee refused to accept them. The Express Company held the eggs for a certain time, and then sold them to a local restaurant. When the case was opened and the eggs examined, it was found that they held opium and not their legitimate contents.

The police were informed, and at the address to which the company had taken them none of the Chinese knew anything about the person to whom they were directed and the police were stalled.

FRENCH FLAG WAS SALUTED BY GERMANS

But Berlin Soldiers Sang "Deutschland" As They Marched Away

Berlin, July 16.—Via London, July 17.—Dr. Haniel von Haimhausen, Under-Secretary of Foreign Affairs, with Herr Moll, Counselor of the Government, representing the Prefect of Police, paid a personal visit to the French Embassy this afternoon to express official regret over the removal on Wednesday of a French flag hoisted over the French Embassy in honor of Bastille Day. Herr Moll announced the arrest of the guilty persons.

Later a company of reichswehr filed past the Embassy portico. The soldiers turned and stood at attention while the tri-color was hoisted. Then they marched away singing "Deutschland Über Alles." The crowd and the police guards joined in the singing.

Pending the arrival of Dr. von Haimhausen and Herr Moll, the crowd had learned of the proposed salute of the French flag by the German troops, and there were cries of "shame," as the saluting company approached the Embassy.

The reichswehr saluting force had not actually left the Embassy precincts when the men broke lustily into "Deutschland Über Alles." The French officers, who had apparently been pleased up to that moment, seemed dumbfounded. They lingered for a moment on the roof and portico, engaged in excited conversation, and then disappeared into the Embassy building.

The secrecy with which the German Government arranged the ceremony of saluting the French flag at the French Embassy to atone for the pulling down of the flag on Bastille Day is believed to have saved Berlin from what would have inevitably developed into a serious popular outbreak. Few knew beforehand that the military salute was to take place, and the newspapers learned of it only just before going to press. But in their abbreviated reports they presented an outburst of editorial indignation.

To Keep Straightest, Unruliest Hair in Curl

The straightest, contrary hair can be kept in curl, even in the hottest or dampest weather, by such simple and harmless means, that the use of the drying, singeing, blistering curling iron is altogether inexcusable. One need only get a few ounces of plain liquid hairine from the drug store and apply a little to the hair before doing it up. The result is quite remarkable. The hair is delightfully wavy and beautifully glossy, without using the least of grease, gummy or streaked. The effect lasts very much longer than where curlers alone or waving irons are used. The hairine is best put on with a clean tooth brush, drawing this through the hair from crown to tip, preferably after dividing it into strands. The application seems to gradually improve the texture and health of the hair.

ATHABASCA RIVER SANDS GIVE OIL

Ottawa, July 17.—An Order-in-Council gazetted yesterday afternoon provides for the withdrawal from sale, lease or settlement of approximately 55,000 acres of land along the Athabasca River in Alberta.

This action is taken, the order states, because representations have been made to the Department of the Interior that, as a result of the investigation and research which has recently been undertaken, "it is confidently expected that a successful process will shortly be evolved for the extraction from the tar sands of the Athabasca River of oil, bitumen and other hydro-carbons in commercial quantities."

HUDSON'S BAY CO. PAYS DIVIDEND

London, July 17.—The Times, referring to the annual report of the Hudson's Bay Company, which shows a profit of £231,757 and announces that a dividend of forty per cent. against forty-two per cent. last year will be paid, says that the company gives no sign of age withering its powers.

The Times further says that if accounts convey any definite impression, it is of a wonderful ability to shoulder new and onerous burdens while maintaining the level of the dividend.

This is said in allusion to the Saskatchewan surtax judgment and the income tax decision here against the company.

The Financial News refers to the Hudson's Bay Company's strong financial position and declares that as the scope of its operations is still being extended there is every reason for expecting that the prosperity of this venerable enterprise will show corresponding expansion.

A woman probably will run for Vice-President, he said, those prominently mentioned being Mary Harris Armour, of Georgia; Anna Howard Shaw, of New York, and Marie C. Bremm, of California.

G.T.R. ARBITRATION IN SEPTEMBER

Ottawa, July 17.—The Grand Trunk arbitration will begin in Montreal probably about the middle of September. The arbitrators, Sir Walter Cassels, chairman; Sir Thomas White for the Government, and W. H. Taft, ex-President of the United States, for the Grand Trunk, are expected to confer next month and fix the definite date.

The arbitration, it is believed, will last a couple of months, and Montreal will be the seat of it because it is the head office of the Grand Trunk. When it is concluded the road will formally pass into the hands of the Government as it is practically now. It will then be decided whether the head office of the amalgamated system will be in Montreal or Toronto.

HOLY GEE, MY HEAD FEELS GOOD TO-DAY!

Pain Over Eyes Is Gone, Headache Cured, Catarrh Relieved!

This is the Common Experience of Those Who Breathe the Vapor of Catarrhazone

Remember this Catarrh can never be cured or even relieved by a cough syrup, a suppository, or tablet treatment. Trouble is these remedies slip quickly over the sore irritated membranes, drop into the stomach and do little else but harm digestion. It's different with "Catarrhazone"—you inhale it. Every breath sends healing balsams to the inflamed tissues. Tightness, soreness and inflammation are cured by healing pine essences. The cough dies away, throat is strengthened, huskiness is cured. Nothing is so simple, so convenient, so certain to cure as Catarrhazone. The dollar outfit includes the inhaler, cost $1, and is guaranteed to cure. CHILE MOVES TO PROTECT FRONTIERS

Santiago, Chile, July 17.—The Foreign Office to-day sent a crier to its legations abroad, stating that in view of the Bolivian revolution the Government considered it necessary to adopt measures of security and to guard its frontiers with Peru and Bolivia.

The crier adds that it is the desire of Chile to maintain peace and to procure a solution of difficulties under strict observance of treaties without foreign pressure.

Advices from Arica to-day say that former President Guerra, of Bolivia, and those deported with him received an ovation on their arrival at Arica.

COURTHOUSES BURNED BY SINN FEINERS

London, July 17.—The Buncrana courthouse, County Donegal, Ireland, where the case of Joseph O'Doherty, a Sinn Féin member of Parliament, on a charge of soliciting subscriptions for the "Irish Republic Parliament," was to be heard, was burned yesterday morning.

The courthouse at Sligo, which was originally selected for the proceedings, also was burned down.

The authorities are now reported to be a quagmire as to where the trial will be held, as no Donegal courthouse seems safe.

RAIDERS ARRESTED.

A dispatch from Dublin last night said: A number of police and military, making arrests at Ballylanders, Limerick, yesterday were fired on by a party of men, some of whom were concealed in houses. The fire was returned and one civilian was wounded. Seven men were arrested and a large quantity of ammunition was seized.

A SOVIET MOVE.

New York, July 17.—The Russian Soviet Bureau here sent notification yesterday to Boyce, Stone and Company, of Montreal, that in the event of the reported deportation of Santari Nuorteva from the United Kingdom, proving true, the contract entered into between the Soviet agency and the Montreal firm for $5,000,000 worth of supplies for Russia would have to be cancelled.

Officials of the Bureau told the Canadian press that they did not credit the report, but had had no message from Nuorteva since he was held for deportation by the British authorities.

Jack—"Molly, dear, I'm knocking at the gate of your heart."

Molly—"And can't you read the notice there? No admittance except on business."

"I want to thank you most earnestly for your last evening's lecture," he said, effusively. "I never enjoyed myself so much in my life." "Thank you," said the lecturer. "I am glad my poor efforts pleased you so much—very glad."

"Yes," said the enthusiastic young man. "You see, I'm awfully sweet on Daisy Streetlight, and last night all her family went to your show, and I had her all to myself. And—what do you think? she promised to be mine for ever and always."

The district is nearly all registered, just a few in outlying districts yet to be reached.

GRIFFITH R. HUGHES SENT UP FOR TRIAL

Magistrate Refuses Appeal For Dismissal; Says It Is Prima Facie Case

Griffith R. Hughes was committed for trial late yesterday afternoon in the police court by Magistrate Jay. The Magistrate said it was "clearly a prima facie case." Mr. Hughes was charged with stealing $28,095.56 from David Spencer, Ltd., between April 20 and June 18, 1919. Coupled with this the Magistrate heard the evidence on the three other charges of stealing $500 on October 27, $500 on November 2, and $600 on November 22, 1919.

Applications of R. T. Elliott, K.C., counsel-in-chief for Mr. Hughes, were refused by the Magistrate, although he said the objection would be noted. Mr. Elliott asserted that because civil action had been taken criminal proceedings were barred.

After he had been held under arrest for two hours, Mr. Hughes was allowed out on bail last evening by Mr. Justice Gregory. The bail was fixed at the same amount as stood for the police court proceedings, $20,000. The same men were on the bond for $5,000 each: J. Gordon Smith, David Leeming, R. Travis and Paul H. Borradaile.

Before Jury in Fall.

Mr. Hughes will come up for trial before a jury at the Fall Assizes here. This will be in October.

W. B. Monteith, chartered accountant for Spencers, was recalled to the stand yesterday afternoon. With City Prosecutor Harrison and Deputy Attorney-Gen. A. M. Johnson, K.C., he went over the bank deposit slips for Spencers made out by Mr. Hughes between April 20 and June 12 of this year. The entries in the cash book were compared with the figures on these slips. On most days there were two deposit slips.

Discrepancy of $28,095.56.

Asked by Mr. Harrison after half an hour's examination of the figures to say what the examination showed, Mr. Monteith said: "They show that the difference between the money that should have gone into the bank and what went in between those dates is $28,095.56." Cross-examined by H. M. Maclean, K.C., attorney for Mr. Hughes, Mr. Monteith admitted that the information against Mr. Hughes was sworn out on July 3 by J. W. Spencer, but that he had got from Mr. Hughes a quantity of jewelry and $60,000 in Victory Bonds on July 3, five days before the information was sworn out.

Crowds Wait All Day.

Crowds hung around the police station and police court until the hearing before Magistrate Jay was finished. As many as could get in the courtroom stood for the full five hours of the hearing. Extra police had to be put on duty outside the police station to keep the crowds back from the entrances. At one time a couple of hundred persons were gathered in the street in front of the station. Women were persistent in trying to force their way through the crowds and get into the court. They were kept back by the fire escapes and listen through windows that it was feared the escapes might collapse. Some men got on the outside of the second story windows and put their heads through the transoms.

Taken on Thirteen Years Ago

J. W. Spencer testified that he has been connected with D. Spencer, Ltd., "ever since I can remember." He is a director and secretary of the company acting "as it pleases me from day to day." He testified that he first knew Mr. Hughes about thirteen years ago.

Mr. Hughes' first office with the company was that of auditor and accountant and of late years he handled and had full charge of the cash account. He controlled the office of Vancouver, Victoria and Nanaimo.

His Duties

In the morning Mr. Hughes would come to the office and get the money taken the day before. He would make the money ready for deposit and was supposed to deposit it for the firm. There is also an afternoon deposit, but this is done by one of the young girls in the office.

Signed Cheques For Mr. Hughes. Mr. Spencer testified that he is the only director here authorized to sign cheques, and he usually signed two cheques a day to be used by Mr. Hughes for banking purposes. One of these cheques was used to square up the petty cash account and the other for mail order purposes.

Mr. Hughes Confronted

On June 18 he saw Mr. Hughes in the office at 9:30 a.m. Mr. Chris Spencer was present. The list of shortages between April 20 and June 12 was on a piece of paper and shown to Mr. Hughes. "Why did you do this?" my brother asked him, Mr. Spencer swore. "I didn't mean to do this; I meant to pay this money back," Mr. Hughes replied. "You didn't need to have taken this money, because if you needed money we would have arranged it," my brother replied to him.

"Why did you do it?" he asked him again. "Mr. Hughes said he didn't know," "Every Cent"

Mr. Spencer testified that Mr. Hughes asked to be allowed to go on for six months and he would put up a bond for $250,000.

Mr. Spencer then went on: "Concluding, my brother said, 'If we want you, Mr. Hughes, we will send for you. Is this every cent you have taken from us?'"

"Chris, this is every cent. I wouldn't see the Spencers lose five cents on my account," Mr. Hughes replied.

Another Interview. On June 26 there was another interview between Mr. McGeer, Mr. Chris Spencer, Mr. Hughes and the witness, Mr. H. Hughes was then asked what he would like to do about paying his debt.

Witness said that he personally did not look after the arrangements for the trusteeship for the property of Mr. Hughes. "Who was it asked you to lay the information?" Mr. Maclean asked.

"No one," Mr. Spencer was in Vancouver to see his brother on July 4, but there was no discussion over the trusteeship.

"Only Thing to Do" "Why did you lay this information?" Mr. Maclean asked. "It seemed that the charges were so large that it seemed the only course to take," replied Mr. Spencer. "It seemed the only thing to do."

"I'll suggest to you that in the afternoon of the 8th Mr. McGeer went to the office of Mr. Hughes and there was trouble about signing cheques," said Mr. Maclean. "What was it he said to you that induced you to lay the information?"

"I have no memory of what induced me to lay the information," replied Mr. Spencer. "Mr. McGeer did not tell me to have Mr. Hughes arrested."

Defence Reserved. The court was notified that this completed the case for the prosecution. Mr. Maclean said the defence would be reserved for the higher court.

"I submit this is essentially a matter of accountancy between Mr. Hughes and Spencers," Mr. Maclean said, however. "The members of the Spencer family recognize this in the bargain between them. They had in their hands his money to the extent of $51,000, and the money he was taking was his money with which he was recouping himself."

"As far as the evidence is before you the Spencer company owes Mr. Hughes the difference between $51,000 and $28,000. They set this out in the most solemn way by this agreement under seal."

"Spencers Owe Mr. Hughes" "The only thing that is proved is that the Spencers owe Hughes the difference between $51,000 and $28,000."

"I won't take up Your Honor's time. There is the admission of the taking of $28,000," said City Prosecutor Harrison, who sat down without saying more.

"It is clearly a prima facie case," Mr. Maclean said. Magistrate Jay. "Committed for trial."

Cox's Chances of Winning the Presidency

While Senator Capper's Topeka Capital (Rep.) considers Republican victory at the polls not even in question, declaring that "after November the Democrats will know that a political party can not carry a presidential election in this country by sprinkling a little booze on its clothes," other Republican papers agree with the New York Tribune that it "would be most foolish if they (Senator Harding's supporters) did not frankly recognize the formidableness of the Cox and Roosevelt ticket." The Chicago Tribune (Rep.) says that the bosses nominated Governor Cox because they thought he was "the best vote-getter and the best goat-getter Democracy had."

If you would obtain a practical idea of Governor Cox's chances of winning the election, as pointed out by newspaper editors of all shades of political opinion, you will do well to read THE LITERARY DIGEST for this week—July 17th. The leading article is a careful summary of American newspaper opinion of the Democratic nominee and the advantages and disadvantages that will be his during the campaign.

MAKING PROGRESS AT SPA.

Germany's capitulation to the Allied demand for the delivery of two million tons of coal monthly marks the disposal of an item of business second only in importance to the disarmament proposals which already have been agreed to by the German delegation at Spa. As in the case of the other condition of the Treaty it was necessary for the Allied representatives to threaten Germany with further occupation of territory before her representatives made up their minds to comply with the terms prescribed. So far, therefore, Germany stands committed to a drastic programme of disarmament, the surrender of essential materials of war, the abolition of conscription, and the delivery of two million tons of coal per month. If she fails to give effect to either of these engagements she will incur the danger of military occupation which, of course, means force.

There are a number of other important matters to be discussed and disposed of before the Conference concludes its business, and if Germany's behavior up to this point may be taken as a guide to her attitude for the remainder of the sessions the Allied representatives very probably will find it necessary to adopt the only course which appears to penetrate German understanding with any effect—the threat of force. It is a matter for congratulation, on the other hand, that the Allied delegates quickly discovered ground for complete unity of action, and any hope that may have been cherished by the Teuton representatives that their participation in this, the first real peace conference, could be directed to the fomenting of differences between the new triple alliance has been completely dispelled.

The San Remo Conference, it will be recalled, effected a settlement of differences which had developed between Great Britain and France in connection with the French occupation of Frankfurt, Darmstadt and other points East of the Rhine, and it is a happy circumstance that that temporary rift in the lute between the original members of the Entente—which, incidentally, was primarily responsible for the gathering now in progress—should have assisted Allied determination against any very material revision of the Treaty of Versailles. Moreover, it should now be patent to Germany that the Allied nations are in a position to demand of her that she execute its provisions or take the consequences. It may yet dawn upon her that she is the vanquished and not the victor.

ULTIMATUM TO TURKEY.

The Allies have informed Turkey that if she does not sign the peace treaty as it stands and give adequate effect to it she will be driven from Europe "once and for all." It will be interesting to learn just how much this threat will disturb the mental equilibrium of the present Ottoman rulers. They, no doubt, recall that on the eve of Turkey's participation in the war she was solemnly warned by the Allies that if she took sides against them she would sign her own death warrant; they would eject her from Europe bag and baggage. Notwithstanding this warning she intervened, eventually hauling Bulgaria in with her and prolonging the war several years. Also, notwithstanding their warning of five years ago the Allies have not required Turkey to leave Europe by anything in the peace treaty, and if she signs that instrument and makes an attempt to carry it into effect she will be permitted to retain Constantinople and the district surrounding it. As matters now stand, however, although the Turkish Government in Constantinople may sign the treaty it is powerless to enforce it; that is, to the extent of maintaining order in Turkish territories in Asia where there is likely to be a continuous upheaval. The retention of Constantinople by the Turks certainly will not help that situation and were it not for the inability of the Allies to agree on how the city on the Bosphorus should be administered, there is little doubt that the crescent would have been replaced by the cross on the dome of St. Sophia before this.

GENERAL DYER GETS SYMPATHY

It is not usual for the average man in the street, especially in these times, to condone without exceptionally good reason any behavior savouring of military impatience and the desire to rule by the sword where the less oppressive course would have served the purpose. But the Amritsar incident appears to have found popular opinion much divided upon the subject of appropriate treatment for the principal actor in the unfortunate tragedy.

Brigadier-General Dyer was faced with what he considered to be a dangerous situation, dangerous to British influence with the promise of ominous consequences for the loyal subjects under his protection. His fault appears to have been in his inability to discern at a glance, in the face of a seditious and threatening mob, all that the commissioners and investigators have succeeded in seeing after a long and considered inquiry into all the circumstances. The difference in the official view is found in his compulsory retirement from the army under the sting of official censure.

Such an exceptional chain of events have surrounded the incident and its sequel, however, as to cause the general public to be more than sympathetic towards the general. In fact, sentiment has developed to a point where public subscription lists have been opened by the newspapers in General Dyer's behalf, that of The Morning Post having netted six thousand pounds in four days. Other newspapers have described Dyer's conduct in terms of "splendid brutality," all of which indicates, perhaps, that too little regard has been paid for the General's understanding of the native mind and the effect upon it of the spirit of unrest with which the world is afflicted.

THE EMPIRE'S WEALTH.

Edgar Crammond, the noted British financial authority, declares the recent war exercised a profound influence upon the economic development of the Empire, the increases in the national wealth and income since 1910 of the various Dominions and dependencies being:

United Kingdom, in 1910, national wealth, £15,882,000,000; national income, £2,016,000,000. In 1919, national wealth, £24,000,000,000; national income, £4,300,000,000.

Canada, in 1910, national wealth, £2,072,000,000; national income, £259,000,000. In 1919, national wealth, £5,000,000,000; national income, £750,000,000.

Australia, in 1910, national wealth, £1,312,000,000; national income, £164,000,000. In 1919, national wealth, £2,900,000,000; national income, £450,000,000.

Crown colonies, possessions and protectorates, in 1910, including Egypt, national wealth, £1,200,000,000; national income, £170,000,000. In 1919 (exclusive of Egypt given above), national wealth, £3,200,000,000; national income, £450,000,000.

The totals are: in 1910, national wealth, £24,986,000,000; national income, £3,332,000,000. In 1919, national wealth, £44,089,000,000; national income, £7,650,000,000.

The national wealth of the United States also has undergone a tremendous expansion, especially since the outbreak of war. In 1914 Mr. Crammond estimates it was computed at $210,000,000,000, while to-day it is between $350,000,000,000 and $400,000,000,000. Japan's national wealth has doubled, being now estimated at $25,000,000,000. Against these increases in the national wealth, however, must be reckoned the war losses which in the case of the British Empire amounted to $5,200,000,000, in that of France to $6,250,000,000 and in that of Germany to $8,700,000,000.

AN OPEN WHEAT MARKET.

As far as Canada's 1920 wheat crop is concerned Government control through the agency of the Wheat Board will not be exercised unless "circumstances" dictate it. In fact the marketing of this year's yield will revert to the usual and normal methods of pre-war times. It remains to be seen, of course, whether the removal of Government restriction and regulation will give the country cheaper wheat and cheaper flour with the consequent benefits. And while it may be too early to prophesy, the possible effect of a resumption of normal methods of disposal may already have been reflected in the operations of the Chicago pit yesterday, when trading in futures commenced with the opening figure at $2.68 and a final close at $2.60; but not before an earlier break had taken the figure down to $2.56. It will be interesting to watch the market for the 1920 crop and to speculate upon the figure—high or low—that will suggest the "circumstances" to the Wheat Board.

NOTE AND COMMENT

As a sequel to the protest lodged by the French Charge d'Affaires in Berlin against the removal of the tricolor from the French Embassy a company of Reichswehr filed past the embassy portico and saluted the flag of the Republic. In true German style, and as if to pile on the insult, the soldiers marched away singing Deutschland Uber Alles. The spots of the leopard are unchangeable.

Because no reply has been received by Great Britain in response to its representations to Soviet Russia for an armistice between the Bolsheviks and Poland there is no suggestion that the negotiations have broken down. Lenin and Trotsky are sufficiently astute to recognize a great deal more advantage in courting the good will of Great Britain than by continuing the advance of the "red" armies through Poland.

Two thousand dollars' worth of opium has been shipped from Montreal to Calgary concealed in eggs. This is a new use for the barnyard product. Some eggs are rather over-ripe before they reach the ultimate consumer, but the poppy dream egg is a novelty.

SHAMROCK IV. AND RESOLUTE IN AMERICA'S CUP RACE

race well in hand. The wind was freshening and here and there a ruffled patch could be observed on the water.

Resolute at this time was leading by a quarter of a mile, being to windward but somewhat astern of Shamrock.

Pointed Higher.

In the heat to windward, the American sloop clearly outdid her rival, holding her head higher in the air and sailing on the very edge of the wind. The rolling sea troubled the challenger not a little, causing her to fall to leeward.

Off Long Branch at 2.35 o'clock Resolute ran into a puff of air which headed her up to weather and enabled her to move further away from Shamrock.

At 2.35 p. m. range-finders aboard the destroyer Goldborough, the official press boat, placed Shamrock 400 yards ahead of Resolute but 700 yards to leeward.

Indicated Course.

At 2.45 p. m. the steam yacht Corair, the official guide boat, headed for the first turning mark, apparently to give the yachts the course as arranged with the Race Committee. Seen from Long Beach where approximately fifteen miles distant, the racing yachts appeared to be sailing neck and neck.

At 2.45 p. m. when the yachts were nearing the first turn, they showed little change in position from the start, as viewed from Long Beach. At 3 o'clock the yachts were still holding the starboard tack which they had taken on crossing the starting line. Resolute was more than half a mile to windward of Shamrock and less than half that distance astern.

Off on Port Tack.

At 3.22 p. m. Resolute tacked to port and headed for the mark, Shamrock IV. tacking thirty seconds later, with Resolute nearly a mile ahead. At 3.15 p. m. the wind had increased to six knots. Shamrock took in her No. 3 baby jib topsail and set a smaller one rather slowly. Resolute gained a trifle during the shift.

The yachts picked up more breeze while out at sea and at 3.20 were moving along fairly fast. Resolute still maintained her distinct advantage over her rival and at this time, after a herring accident, looked to be winner, as Shamrock had to allow her six minutes and forty seconds. Resolute carried staysail, jib, No. 2 baby jib topsail, mainsail and club topsail. Shamrock carried mainsail, club topsail, staysail, jib and baby topsail.

Off on Starboard Tack. Shamrock was first to break away to starboard at 3.21, followed at once by Resolute.

Shamrock held it only three minutes, when she came about on the port tack again, being very slow in ports. Resolute held on.

Split Tacks. Resolute went about on the starboard tack at precisely 3.30, while the Lipton boat came about on the port tack again, splitting tacks with the defender.

After a short starboard tack, Resolute went about again on the port tack and Captain Burton elected to tack to starboard again with the challenger.

Resolute at 3.25 went about on the starboard tack as she approached the first mark. From shore she appeared to have about a three-quarter-mile lead over the challenger.

At 3.33 the mark of the first turn was about four miles from Resolute and about six miles of the thirty-mile course had been covered.

Moved Rapidly. Shamrock tacked to port at 3.40. She seemed to carry a bit of with her that the defender was not getting and moved along quite rapidly—in the water. Resolute was showing a well-defined wake to her rival. Two minutes later Resolute also came about on the port tack.

At 3.53 p. m. with both boats almost heading for the mark, three miles distant, range finders on the destroyer Goldborough showed Resolute 400 yards ahead to windward.

Four o'clock found the yachts holding together on the port tack for out at sea, heading for the first mark. In the last half hour of sailing the challenger had held her own with the American.

Still Gaining. At four o'clock, Shamrock was still gaining on Resolute, until she was less than 200 yards astern, but still was to leeward. The wind dropped back to less than five knots and its softness again threatened an uncompleted race.

At 4.10, Shamrock was 100 yards under Resolute's lee with the first mark about a mile to weather of the defender. During the last half hour Shamrock gained steadily.

The two yachts went about on the starboard tack at 4.16. The wind had dropped a bit and the two big sloops washed along the seaway, making slow time of it.

Left by Resolute. After tacking to starboard, the yachts failed to fetch the mark. Ten minutes later the wind hauled a bit to the southward, letting Resolute up for the mark. Shamrock was left astern almost becalmed.

Resolute turned the mark at 4.33.42 p. m., unofficial time. Shamrock rounded the first mark at 5.10.05, unofficial time, 36 minutes shipments abroad jumped from $33,000,000 to $66,000,000, an increase of exactly 100 per cent.

Big increases were shown on the import side of the trade sheet. Dutiable goods brought into the country increased in value from $131,620,409 to $229,004,966, while customs collections increased from $33,000,000 to $56,000,000.
Free goods imported were worth $170,000,000, as against $70,000,000 for the first quarter last year.

ports was due largely to the fact that agricultural and food products sent abroad were worth only $66,422,368, as against $96,450,495 during the first quarter of last year. and 23 seconds behind the Resolute. At 8 a. m. Sandy Hook, N. J., July 17.—A wind of three knots strength from the northeast was blowing at eight o'clock this morning, when the crews of the cup sloop Resolute and Shamrock IV. began preparations for the day's race. It was a tickle, fitful breeze. Captain Burton cast a searching eye seaward from the deck of the Shamrock to observe wind and wave prospects. "The Americans say that the British weather is all samples and no bulk," he said, "but on Thursday we had rain, hail, squalls, calms and cloudbursts. Now what to-day?"

Barely Three Knots. The wind gauge at Sandy Hook was barely three knots an hour, and the faint breeze failed to ruffle the Jersey ground swell that was running offshore. Weather indications promised a slow race though beachcombers said the wind probably would haul into the south east by the time the sloops reached the starting line. A southeast breeze would give the yachts a beat to windward on the first leg of the triangular race; a broad reach for the second and a close reach home for the third leg.

Shamrock was the first to get her mainsail up. It flapped idly for a time in the light air. The challenger's crew also sent up head sails in stops.

Weaknesses Corrected. Shamrock and Resolute tugged lightly at their moorings. A low and aloft on both racers minor weaknesses disclosed in Thursday's struggle had been corrected and both skipper's hoped a better test of sailing ability would be had on the Sandy Hook racing lanes to-day than was had in Thursday's fluky breeze. Shamrock will not carry in today's race the Nicholson jacket, designed to prevent back windage from the main mast. The Cup Committee informed Captain Burton that if Shamrock carried the jacket in future races she would have to be measured.

Time Allowances. Sandy Hook, July 17.—The Regatta Committee announced at 11.30 a. m. that the time allowance which Shamrock IV. must give Resolute would remain at six minutes and forty seconds for the thirty-mile course.

SAYS BOARD IS NOT PAYING SHARE

Hospital Board Deplores Small Allowance Paid by Compensation

The first meeting after election of the Board of Directors of the Royal Provincial Jubilee Hospital was held last night with George McGregor in the chair. The election of officers for the current term was the main item on the agenda, resulting in the selection of R. S. Day as president; George McGregor, vice-president; James Forman, hon. treasurer; Dr. J. Rogers, medical superintendent; G. T. Carver, secretary; and Miss Jessie McKenzie, lady superintendent.

The meeting passed a resolution determining bank signatories in the persons of R. S. Day, G. McGregor, J. Forman, L. U. Conyers and G. T. Carver, three of whom will have to sign all bank cheques and papers. The endorsement of the resolution was necessary, stated the chairman, on account of the absence of Messrs. Day and Forman, both of whom are out of town.

The House Committee's report showed progress for the past period, with the financial report in a satisfactory state. Included in the report was a letter from the Workman's Compensation Board, offering the hospital the rate of $2.50 a day for who was again elected President of the Royal Jubilee Hospital by his fellow directors last evening.

every patient treated there for injury under the care of the Workman's Compensation Act. Considerable discussion was raised on this point and it was stated that a similar letter had been received by the Sisters of St. Joseph's Hospital.

Patients Cost More.

The cost of treating the injuries of the average patient under this Act was stated to be in the neighborhood of some $2.50 per day, and the assembly discussed the possibility of inducing the Government to pay the full cost, and not the proportion mentioned. Co-operation with St. Joseph's Hospital was advisable, it was stated, to bring about this result.

The X-ray department, and expenses in that connection were the subject of an extended discussion of a confidential nature.

The recommendation of the House Committee report to the effect that a joint meeting of the House Committee with that on finances be held, was met with a resolution to that effect being carried. The joint committee is to deal with the general question of salaries throughout the institution.

Some increases in the pay of several members of the staff were endorsed last night by the Board.

A letter from Mr. Day to Mr. Graham, President of the Kiwanis Club, was read, intimating that the plans for the new building would be available for any authorized and responsible person to see, but that the Board could not see its way clear to allow the plans and specifications out of their keeping.

There were nine of the directors present, including G. McGregor, L. U. Conyers, Charles Williams, M. Harbord, John Wallace, James Faritt, J. W. Bolden, G. T. Carver and Mrs. Charles Rhodes.

MR. BOWSER TO TOUR

Toronto Conservatives Want Him, But He Has Already Arranged For B. C. Speaking Trip.

Toronto Conservatives at their big demonstration on July 25 want W. J. Bowser, K.C., leader of the Conservative party in British Columbia, to address them and tell them of Conservative hopes on the Coast.

As he has made arrangements for a Provincial speaking tour, Mr. Bowser is unable to accept the invitation. He will leave on his Peace River tour on July 26 or 27.

Next Tuesday, Mr. Bowser will speak at Cumberland. On Wednesday he will visit the Merville soldier settlement and the same evening address the annual meeting of the Comox Central Conservative Association. He will return to Victoria on Thursday. H. St. Clements, M.P., for Comox-Atlin will also attend this meeting.

Girlish, Wrinkle-Free Skin Easy to Have

Since its remarkable skin-softening and tonic properties became known, clever women all over the world have been using the saskolite face bath to "tone up" their faces, remove wrinkles and draw baby cheeks and neck back to normal. After using the solution, the face immediately feels much firmer. The skin tightens evenly all over the face, thus reducing lines and sagging. The formula is: Powdered saskolite, one ounce, dissolved in witch hazel, one-half pint.

This simple and harmless face bath is a splendid thing for the outdoor girl, since sun, wind and flying dust are so provocative of squinting and other counterproductive causes which cause wrinkles and sagging. It is fine to freshen up a tired face in hot, depressing weather.

MEMORIES OF EX-EMPRESS EUGENIE; BEAUTY AND WIT

Thrilling Romance of the Empress Who Bismarck Said Was "The Only Woman He Was Afraid Of."

The ex-Empress Eugenie is dead! In that simple sentence is written the closing chapter of the romance of one of the most wonderful women in history—a woman who, in the space of a century, rose from nothing to be Empress of the French; who saw the enemies who caused the downfall of her beloved Empire in 1870 themselves defeated by a world in arms; who saw the French Empire over which she had reigned cast into the dust and the Republic rise phoenix-like from its ashes while she lived in exile—a tragic figure, moving in her own world of memories of grandeur and pomp, of days that glid the pages of history.

Born ninety-five years ago in a wine shop at Malaga, Spain, Eugenie was the daughter of a poor Scots-woman and a poorer Spanish noble. The young Countess de Montijo, as she was in her maiden days, lived to fulfill the prophecy made by a kypsy who, on seeing the lovely infant lying in a poor cradle, said: "You will be the most beautiful woman in the world. You will be Empress of a great country, and have health, wealth and wisdom. You will have every wish that a woman has ever wished, but peace will not be yours until you have lost everything you have gained."

Adored by Poets
When the lovely young Countess married the Prince Napoleon in the early fifties, poets vied in singing her praises and finding smiles for her loveliness. She had come from Spain and she had been fascinating, bright and lovely enough at twenty-seven to catch the gilded and blase Louis Napoleon. Sixty years later, in the closing years of her life, she was a frail old lady, leaning on a cane and crutch, dressed in deep mourning, her snowy locks bearing little resemblance to the golden tresses upon which the great Napoleon had placed the crown of France. In her lovely English home at Farnborough, Hampshire, she re-lived again the days of her triumph, surrounded by power was such that even the Iron Chancellor Bismarck said of her: "She is the only woman in the world that I am afraid of."

Rare Mental Gifts
With her mother the young Countess first went to Paris in 1849. Here she became celebrated for her beauty, her amiability and her rare mental gifts. The son of the then American Minister to France, William C. Rives, fell madly in love with her. His family objected to the match on account of religious differences. Young Mr. Rives returned a bachelor to his ancestral home in Virginia, but eventually married and became the father of Amelia Rives.

Eugenie made the acquaintance of Prince Napoleon, as he was then called, when he was living at the Elysee in his character of President of the French Republic. From the first he was attracted to the brilliant young, Spanish-girl. But when he became Emperor in 1852 his mind was set on an alliance with some European royalty. At that time, however, his throne was considered so unstable that first one and then another Princess refused his advances. Finally he determined to follow the dictates of his heart. Early in January, 1853, he startled his ministers by announcing that he had determined on an alliance with Mlle. de Montijo. The news excited much opposition, not only in the Cabinet, but among the French public. An alien Empress, not of royal blood, was distasteful to them. But the emperor stood firm. The royal marriage took place at Notre Dame Cathedral at the end of January, 1853.

Jealousy and Suspicion
Three years elapsed between the Emperor's marriage and the birth of his only child. This occurred March 18, 1856. With the birth of the Prince Imperial troubles arose between Eugenie and the Bonaparte family. She was jealous and suspicious of all possible pretenders to the succession. These family differences at the end of a few years' time alienated nearly all her husband's friends. But the Empress still reigned supreme over the hearts of the Parisian populace. At this period of her career Eugenie was spoken of as the handsomest woman in Europe. She set off her superb beauty by dressing with such elegance and good taste that her costumes became the models for womankind in all parts of the world. She took a keen interest in political matters, greatly annoyed the Emperor's ministers by insisting on being present at the state councils. She was three times appointed regent—in 1855, during the Italian war in 1856, and when the Emperor started on the last disastrous expedition which ended at Sedan. Little is known of Eugenie's life between the declaration of war against Prussia in 1870 and the disaster at Sedan. The glittering Empire in which she shone went down with a crash; she escaped death at the hands of a mob of infuriated sans-culottes by creeping out of the back door of her palace. Exiled and with her world tottering about her, she turned to England for refuge and found it at Farnborough, where she spent her declining years, and where her husband and only son, the Prince Imperial, who met his death at the point of a Zulu assegai, lie in the private chapel in which she herself will now be laid to rest.

Retained Her Vitality
The ex-Empress retained the most extraordinary vitality to the end of her life and took the keenest interest in the management of her lovely home as well as in topics of interest in the outer world. Throughout the war she followed the various campaigns, with the aid of war maps. It is said that the war re-kindled the fire of her old love for France—the country at whose hands she had suffered much. Her constantly repeated hope was that she would live to see the enemies of France beaten and the tragic memories of the defeat of the Franco-Prussian war wiped out, and her wish was fulfilled.

As early as in the Autumn of 1914 the ex-Empress, at that time eighty-eight years of age, converted a wing of her home into a sanatorium for wounded soldiers and every day she paid a visit to each of the eight rooms and chatted with the patients.

Made a Fortune
With the heritage of Scottish business sense which came to her from her maternal grandfather, the ex-Empress made an immense fortune, which a few years ago was estimated to reach $30,000,000. She not only maintained her estates, including a convent, a monastery, the Farnborough hospital and forty different war charities, but she also dowered her daughter, the Countess of Flanders. The latter was the favorite god-daughter of the former Empress, and is considered probable that when the will is made public it will be found that a large part of her immense fortune has been left to Alfonso's consort.

To an Italian writer who met the Empress a few years ago, she summed up her life story in the pathetic words: "I am the past. I am the distant horizon, where exists a mirage, a shadow, a phantom shadow. Mine was a dream killed by fate. I am an old woman, poor in everything that makes a woman rich. I have lived, I have been what I have been. I do not ask more. I ask only to be remembered."

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Keenan, 1317 McNair Street, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Thursday evening, when their daughter, Miss Mary M. Keenan, was united in marriage to T. Burton Wright, of Lac La Poudre. The Rev. A. D. B. Owen officiated, and Mrs. Herbert Cook played the wedding music. The bride looked very charming attired in her travelling suit of blue and white, with a matching shade and white picture hat. She carried a beautiful bouquet of roses and carnations. Her sister, Miss R. P. Keenan, was bridesmaid, and her brother, John K. Keenan, attended the groom. The rooms were prettily decorated with oak leaves and marguerites. While admiring that the work was fairly hard, they were all unanimous in voicing the opinion that there was a big opportunity for women farmers on Vancouver Island. Mrs. Ekyne is more than delighted with the result of her investigations and feels confident that within a few years there will be many women on the land in British Columbia.

LADY BARNARD

WILL OPEN FETE

Charming But Cheap Novelties at King's Daughters' Fete Next Week

Lady Barnard has graciously consented to open the garden fete to be held under the auspices of the King's Daughters at the lovely home of Mrs. F. M. Rattenbury, Beach Drive, on Wednesday next, July 21. A number of very gay posters, announcing the event, have been made by Mrs. Anderson and are now on view in the local stores.

The Daughters have been actively preparing for the fete for some time past and the result of their efforts will be seen in the many attractive wares with which the various booths will be stocked. In connection with the needlework stall, a special feature is being made of really artistic novelties. Resulting that in these days of high living costs there is a demand for goods at reasonable prices, the Daughters have arranged to sell charming novelties at exceedingly low prices, one booth being given over to goods marked as low as twenty-five cents. In addition there will be special attractions for the children, and booths for the sale of home cooking, ice cream, home-made candies, and cut flowers. Miss Thain's orchestra will furnish a programme of music throughout the afternoon.

The Beauty of The Lily can be yours. It is wonderfully pure, soft, pearly white appearance, free from all blemishes, will be comparable to the perfect beauty of your skin and complexion if you use it.

SOME proprietors of Household Remedies have made the mistake of advertising their Preparations as something to take the place of the Doctor's services.

Some physicians, on the other hand, have maintained that All Household or Proprietary Remedies are worthless and should not be sold.

The facts, as usual, lie between these extreme views.

"Call the Doctor," should be the first thought when there is illness or injury. Get his opinion, and follow his directions. But sometimes there are cases of sudden sickness or a minor accident when the right remedy, instantly at hand, will save much suffering and render any further treatment unnecessary.

This justifies the existence of the Household Remedy as an accessory to the doctor, providing in an economical and always stable form the medicinal virtues of some good formula (often a doctor's prescription) for use in the many minor ailments and injuries of every day life for which the great majority of people cannot afford the doctor's visits each time or, as on the farm, are so situated that they cannot obtain his services quickly, even if their means permit. Such a remedy is PERRY DAVIS PAINKILLER.

For nearly seventy-five years, this reliable preparation has been used on the farm, in lumber and mining camps, on the sea, in the homes of town and city, not only in Canada and the United States, but also in practically every country in the world for a few simple ailments which are everywhere prevalent, and for which this remedy has been found to give prompt and effective treatment.

In cold climates and in the winter season of others, a teaspoonful of PAINKILLER in a glass of warm water or milk helps wonderfully to ward off the evil effects of a chill; while a piece of flannel, dipped in a glass of hot water to which a teaspoonful of PAINKILLER has been added, wrapped around the throat of a child at bedtime, is remarkably effective for croupy or bronchial attacks.

During the hot Canadian summer and all the year round in tropical countries PAINKILLER is famous for the relief it will bring in acute attacks of stomach and bowel trouble caused by unwise eating.

PAINKILLER is also a very effective Liniment for bruises, sprains, insect bites and stings. In fact, this real Home Remedy is a good thing to have always on hand at home and when travelling. Price, 50c per bottle.

New family size, containing about two and one half times the quantity of the 50c. size, price $1. Families accustomed to using PAINKILLER for various purposes, will find this by purchasing the new family size, they can obtain this standard preparation at a cost, nearly as low as before these present high-cost-and-high-tax times.

WATER COLORS AND OLD SILVER EXHIBITUnder Provincial Arts Institute Auspices Next Week; Is Unique Collection

The Provincial Arts and Industrial Institute of British Columbia has completed arrangements for the holding next week of the second of its series of loan exhibitions, which will comprise water-colors and old silver.
The exhibit has been arranged in the Provincial Library and will be opened on Monday at three o'clock by Lieutenant-General Ross, General Officer Commanding Military District No. 11.

The collection, which is considered unique and the finest ever shown on the Pacific Coast, comprises some two hundred and thirty paintings representative of some of the best known Canadian artists as well as many local painters of the brush.
Visitors to the exhibit will be amply repaid by an inspection of these specimens of the art of water-color painting.

Samuel Prout.

Among the more notable are two by Samuel Prout, the famous artist of the last century. One is a charming study in miniature of a scene in Italy, and although the whole picture only measures about three inches by two, the detail is exquisite.
Another by the same artist shows the entrance to a cathedral, probably Italian also, with peasants grouped before the doorway. So wonderful is the detail of the architecture that it is difficult to realize that the work is in water-colors, while the light effects are particularly beautiful.
Of special interest is a little portrait of Prout, executed with charming delicacy of line by Sir William Ross.

Well-Known Artists.

Several fine specimens of the art of W. St. Thomas Smith, the eminent Canadian artist, are on view, including a strongly executed seascape whose angry waves seem fairly to leap out of the canvas, also a moorland scene with mist effects. A series of scenes from old Edinburgh, from the brush of F. Little, are charming studies in soft greys and blues, the artist having caught the "dour" Scottish atmosphere with wonderful effect.

Albert Hartland, the well-known painter, is represented with several very studies, while Burkett Foster's art is seen in two studies of child life, in which subject he is perhaps at his happiest. Several impressionistic landscapes by Collins and a number of local scenes by Mme. de l'Aubiniere, the artist who was in Victoria in 1887, are of particular interest.

B. C. Studies.

Numerous clever studies from the brush of Miss M. T. Ravenhill, including several of the snow scenes in the painting of which she has few equals, and one or two vivid bits of color in the way of Mediterranean scenes, and painting by such local artists as Miss Kittie, R. B. Butler, S.
MacLure, T. Bamford and D. Cameron are worthy of special attention.
The modern Dutch school is represented in a charming Dutch interior by Neuhys.

Nature-lovers as well as lovers of art will be interested in the collection of paintings of the native plants of
B. C. painted by Miss Emily H.
Woods of Victoria. The Institute is hoping to publish a book on the flora of British Columbia and if their plan materializes Miss Woods's sketches will be used for its illustration.

Fine Old Silver.

The old silver exhibit includes a very handsome urn, formerly the property of the Baroness Nairn and from which "Bonnie Prince Charlie" is alleged to have partaken tea. A lovely pierced silver, dated 1791, an old Bohemian lady and some fine grape scissors are among the interesting specimens, while the modern school is seen in a very fine Scottish dirk, made by Mr. Mackie of this city.

AUSTRALASIAN PARTY ARRIVESAre On Way to Imperial Press Conference at Ottawa

Delegates from Australasia to attend the Imperial Press Conference at Ottawa, arrived to-day, including large contingents from either country. Among those who reached here on the Niagara this afternoon were:
Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Leys, editor and part owner of the Auckland Star;
James Parker, Wellington Post; Mr.
and Mrs. Abbey Jones, Southland
Times; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Penn, Taranaki Herald; Mr. and Mrs. Hutchison, Otago Daily Times; Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Fairfax, Sydney Morning
Herald; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Dennison, Sydney Sun; Hon. C. E. Davis and Mrs. Davis, Hobart News; Mr.
and Mrs. J. J. Knight, Brisbane
Courier; J. E. Edwards, Brisbane
Telegraph; Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Pink, Melbourne Herald; William Brennen, Melbourne Argus; D. E.
Bergham, Sydney Daily Telegraph;
Keith Murdoch, London representative of the Sydney Sun.

Two New Zealanders, and six Australians went to England, and are going the other way round to the Press Conference, including H. Horton, New Zealand Herald, and P.
Felig, of the Christ Church Press.

Delegates Are Pleased.

The delegates are immensely pleased with the reception they have received all the way on their voyage, and point out that they will cross the North American continent three times on their travels to the Press Conference, going to Ottawa now, thence to Prince Edward Island, back to Vancouver, then East again to Montreal. Many of the party have signified their intention of returning to their homes by way of London.

Nothing definite was stated as the business of the Imperial Press Conference by the Australian and New Zealand delegates, beyond the intention to ask for a general speeding up of the cable service around the globe and a general cheaper rate. The Australians stated that they have an excellent service on cable now, getting more than six columns daily, via Canada and the Old Country, but that they want a cheaper service and a faster one.

At Honolulu the party was entertained by the Advertiser Club and the Pan Pacific Club, having a merry time, and being presented with the customary Hawaiian wreaths.
T. W. Leys, in an interview with
The Daily Times, stated that the Government of New Zealand had spent over ninety millions on the project of buying farms for the returned soldiers, and that the country was never in a more prosperous and happy state. He stated, however, that there was a labor shortage, caused in part by the high-to-the-land movement fostered by the Government. The Government paid between ten and fifteen thousand dollars per farm for the best improved land for the use of returned men, and had followed a various policy of land settlement throughout.

Librarian Drowns.
Two days out from Honolulu, the party was cast in gloom over the loss of the ship's librarian, William Bond, who threw himself overboard while out of his mind. He had been confined to his cabin, with medical attention, and was adjudged insane.
Two stewards were told off to watch that he came to no harm, but he eluded the stewards on a pretext, got from the stateroom, locked the door, and climbed the port hole, throwing himself into the sea.
The S.S. Niagara circled around for about half an hour, but all to no avail, and no trace could be found
of the unfortunate man.
The delegates were delighted with their first glimpse of the Great Far West, spoke in glowing terms of the beauty of the continent.

SALVATION ARMYHEAD IN VICTORIAGeneral Bramwell Booth Arrived To-day on Australian Steamer

General Bramwell Booth, head of the Salvation Army in the world,
after a successful tour in Australia, arrived in Victoria this afternoon on the Niagara from New Zealand.

He left London in the third week of March, and proceeded to Colombo, thence crossing the Indian ocean to Fremantle. While in Western Australia he visited Perth, and then journeyed to Adelaide, Melbourne, Sydney and Brisbane, crossing to
New Zealand. In the southern Dom-

GENERAL BRAMWELL BOOTH

inion he visited Christchurch, Dunedin, Wellington and Auckland. He will leave Vancouver direct for New York, being booked to cross the Atlantic in the Celtic.

In a message to the people of Canada General Booth stated: "I think the war has made the good in the world better, but it has also made the bad worse, and in this regard I feel that the war is not going to prove so great an evil as at one time we feared. The war was not a surprise to a great many people in England.
There is a great cleaning up in Europe as a result to-day. To drive out the atrocious system of secret diplomacy with its lies and humbug was one of the principal causes of the war."

The General said there is a spirit of righteousness abroad in the world to-day. He expressed the hope that the United States would come in and give a moral tone to the world's governments by lending its support and strength to bring the nations together against future wars.

The local Salvation Army adherents assembled at the wharf to welcome the General. Commandant Cummings and Staff Captain Jaynes, and other officers, and the General, who addressed them.

TRY FOR PLACES
ON OLYMPIC TEAMEarl Thompson Creates New Hurdle Record at Montreal
Meet

Montreal, July 17.—Crack athletes representing the cream of the athletic Canada competed at the grounds of the Montreal A. A. A. here to-day for a place on the team that will represent Canada at the Olympic Games at Antwerp. The meeting opened in good weather though a sharp wind blew across the first two days.
C. Coffey, of Manitoba, who won the 100 metres, found that no jinx was attached to his number, which was 13. He had a fairly easy time, though his time in the final, 11 1/5 seconds, does not compare very favorably with the Olympic record time, 10 4/5.

The 800-metre saw a struggle between J. W. Mooney, a Maritime Province runner, and H. Phillips, an Ontario runner. Mooney went into the lead right away and held it till the stretch was reached, when Phillips made his effort, pulled up, and
won. The distances made by D. J.
Cable, Montreal, who won the discus event, and J. Moriarty, Ontario, who was first in the shot put, were very poor.

V. F. Heard, Ontario, who won the pole vault, was three feet off the Olympic record.
Earl Thompson, the great Dartmouth College hurdler, but who will wear the Maple Leaf at Antwerp because he is a Canadian, took the high jump with a pole leap of five feet ten inches.

A new Canadian record for the javelin throw was made by A. Stewart, Ontario, who flung the spear 184 feet 11 inches.
The old record was 146 feet 10 inches, made by Cable, of Montreal,
last Saturday at the Ontario provincial Olympic trials. Cable to-day could only get third place, Macdonald, of Ontario, being second.
Thompson gave a great exhibition in 110 hurdles, winning easily. He

ACCUSED SHOWS
LEANING TO LAWMan Convicted of Cheque
Forgery Challenges His Prosecutors

Louis Downey, found guilty on the second of the two charges preferred against him, that of being in possession of cheques he knew to be forged, was convicted to-day, and sentenced by Magistrate Jay to three months in jail.

Downey, by contesting the evidence against him in the first charge, that of being in possession of stolen property, evaded that count.

Harold Liveray, operator of the Two Jacks Grill, testified to the fact that the accused had tendered a cheque for $5 on the Imperial Bank, to him in payment for a meal.

When the cheque was presented at the bank, no account was taken there in the name of "J. A. Southworth," which was the name signed to the cheque. The cheque was made payable to "Lewis Downey." The accused attempted to show that that was not the same person as "Louis Downey," but was reminded that he had been seen endorsing the cheque by the witness. The accused conducted his own defence, contesting every point that offered the slightest chance of objection.

Detective Phipps, in the box later, told of arresting the man and searching him, with the result that a second cheque was found with the same date, amount, and signature as the former, but made payable to "G. B.
Gordon." Detective Phipps stated that the accused was registered at the Delhi Hotel, Room 30, as "G. B.
Gordon," and had been known by that name.

Accused challenged the detective, and asked him if it was not a fact that the latter had accused him of being "dopy" and attempted to browbeat him into an admission. Witness denied the allegations, and told of the search and arrest of the man.

Magistrate Jay said that it was apparent to him that the man who wrote "Lewis Downey" on the cheque was the same man that endorsed the cheque.

the court, "but to the use of a false document purporting to be genuine.
The two cheques are of the same date, amount, and writing, and I must hold you guilty of the charge," concluded the Magistrate, imposing sentence of three months in jail.

Ship From Genoa Bay Is Posted as Missing

No Word of Schooner Bianca Which Sailed From Royal Roads, January 29 For Delagoa Bay, South Africa; Vessel in Trouble Here.

The worst is feared for the safety of the American schooner Bianca, bound from Victoria to Delagoa Bay, South Africa. The Bianca is now 170 days out on a voyage that is usually accomplished in less than 100 days. No word has been received from the vessel since she slipped over the horizon after putting out to sea from Cape Flattery and much anxiety exists in coast shipping circles as to her possible fate. The Bianca carries a crew of seventeen men and is commanded by Captain R. Peterson.

The vessel was built by the Elliott Bay Shipbuilding Company at Seattle, originally being designed as a steamer and converted into a windjammer. She was chartered through the Universal Shipping & Trading Company to load lumber at Genoa Bay, B.C., she took aboard 1,500,000 feet of lumber and reached the Royal Roads December 30 to complete her crew.

Took Crew Here.
Captain Peterson experienced a great deal of trouble in getting a full crew together, and while the ship was taking on stores the mate was wounded in a stabbing affray. This incident and the fact that the ship was held pending the settlement of financial details affecting the charter, kept the Bianca swinging at anchor until January 22, when she slipped out to sea. Mate Lamp, a local mariner, was secured to take the place of the wounded officer.

The Bianca is a five-masted wooden vessel of 1,800 tons. Captain Peterson, whose family reside at San Francisco, is well known on the Pacific coast as an experienced sailing master. He was formerly master of the schooner William F. Carr, and prior to that he commanded the barque Louisiana.

Alternative Route.
Some of the more hopeful of the marine experts believe the long voyage of the Bianca may have been due to having found it advisable to make for the South African port by way of the Indian Ocean, instead of by the customary route around Cape Horn. But even had Captain Peterson taken the Indian Ocean route the ship would still be overdue.

BOARD OF CONCILIATION.

Ottawa, July 17.—(Canadian Press).—Acting on the request of the Mayor or Prince Rupert, the Minister of Labor has established a board of conciliation to investigate the dispute between the Grand Trunk Pacific Steamship Company and its longshoremen and certain other employees at that port. His Honor Judge Young, is chairman of the board, Fred Dawson represents the company, and W. E. Thompson, the men. The dissatisfied employees have not been working for some time, but they have agreed to resume work pending the finding of the board.

VESSEL IN DISTRESS WAS SCHOONER PRESPO

Seattle, July 17.—The fishing schooner Prespo, of Tacoma, was reported in distress near Carmansh Point, on the west coast of Vancouver Island, and the coastguard tug Snookish was sent from Port Angeles, Wash., to the vessel's assistance. The call for help came by telephone from shore, the Prespo not being equipped with wireless. The Prespo, built in 1913, is of 21 tons burden.

NIAGARA BRINGS MANY TRAVELERS FROM AUSTRALIA

Makes Port From Sydney, N. S. W., After Being Delayed By Fog Outside

On terminating her voyage from Australasia the big Canadian-Australasian liner Niagara, Captain J. T. Rolis, hit a bank of fog off the coast and was detained outside the Straits.

Passing in at the Cape early this morning the Niagara made quarantine about 11 o'clock and after getting pratique came up to her berth at the Outer Docks. The liner brought in one of the largest lists of passengers ever transported here from Australia, having about seven hundred souls aboard all told.

Press Delegates.

Prominent among the saloon travelers was the Imperial Press Conference delegation from Australia and New Zealand en route to Ottawa. A notable passenger was General Bramwell Booth, the veteran director of Salvation Army activities, who has been touring the southern hemisphere.

Dr. J. M. Shaw, ship's surgeon of the liner Makura, who was taken ill last voyage and transferred to hospital at Honolulu, was also a passenger home by the Niagara.

EMPRESS OF RUSSIA TO ARRIVE MONDAY

LONGSHOREMEN ARE BACK AT RUPERT

Strike Called Off With Appointment of Board of Conciliation

After having been out on strike for six weeks the longshoremen at Prince Rupert returned to work on Thursday. The appointment of a conciliation board resulted in the International Longshoremen's Union settling the men back pending a final settlement of the dispute.

Judge Young has been appointed chairman of the conciliation board and the other two members are W. E. Thompson, representing the labor men, and F. Dawson, representing the G. T. P.

Shippers hail the settlement of the strike with satisfaction, for, although the coastwise shipping companies have been accepting freight, only freight which could be handled by temporary longshoremen has been taken north by the steamers. For a time there was an embargo on all freight going to Prince Rupert. The Prince Rupert longshoremen are asking the same wages prevailing at Victoria and Vancouver. The G. T. P. took the position that the cost of living was greater at these ports than at the northern port and refused to meet the demands.

Employees of the company and Prince Rupert merchants have been handling freight since the commencement of the strike.

FREIGHT SERVICE MUCH IMPROVED

C.P.O.S. Route to Singapore Will Be Augmented by Steamship Mattawa

The direct freight service of the C. P. O. S. between British Columbia and the Straits Settlements, inaugurated in October, 1919, with the steamship Methven, will shortly be augmented by the steamship Mattawa, formerly in the Atlantic trade. The Mattawa sailed from Liverpool April 23 via the Suez Canal with a general cargo for Karachi, Bombay, Yokohama, Manila and Hongkong, Colombo, Singapore, Hongkong, Shanghai, Kobe and Yokohama. The Mattawa was recently reported leaving Singapore and is expected on this coast in the near future. The direct freight service to Singapore is in addition to the regular passenger and freight service of the C. P. O. S. between Vancouver, Victoria, Yokohama, Manila and Hongkong, maintained by the Empress fleet. It is expected that a fairly heavy volume of traffic will move in connection with these freight ships to Singapore, as shippers for such ports as Calcutta, Colombo, Bombay, Rangoon, Madras, Batavia and Samarang, can be transhipped at Singapore at considerably less cost than via Hongkong.

Another feature of this service is the issuance of through bills of lading from shipping points to ultimate destination, thereby eliminating the usual trouble of arranging clearance at the seaboard.

CANADA'S SHIPS FILL LONG FELT WANT IN AUSTRALASIAN VIEW

First Government Boats Won Favorable Comment in Australian Shipping Circles

Dealing with the newly inaugurated Canadian Government steamship service between British Columbia ports and Australasia, C. Harlett, assistant Canadian Trade Commissioner at Melbourne, says:

"Already two steamships of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, Ltd., the Canadian Raider and Canadian Importer, have arrived at Sydney and Melbourne. These ships are to be followed by the Canadian Exporter and two other ships of similar size at regular monthly intervals. Apart from filling a long felt want in the shipping facilities between Canada and Australia, these ships, in carrying cargo from the Commonwealth to New Zealand, are relieving considerable congestion existing for some time in Australian ports, and the available space is eagerly sought by shippers of Australian products to both New Zealand and Canada. Upon their arrival in Melbourne the Canadian Importer was visited by a number of prominent Australian shipping men, and most favorable comment was made upon the design, her exceptional clear holds, large hatches and powerful winches for the rapid loading and discharge of cargo."

SALMON FISHERS WANT HIGHER PAY

Demand More Money Because Fish Are Larger and More Difficult to Handle

Vancouver, B. C., July 17.—The salmon run in Northern waters has commenced in earnest with reports of phenomenal-sized sockeyes running on the Fraser. The fish on the inlet this year are five-year-old salmon and run about ten to the case instead of the customary four. The fishermen are making demands for an increase in the price paid per fish on the ground that the larger fish are more difficult to handle and there are not so many required. The explanation of these large fish is given by the authorities as being last year's run of fish too small to be caught by nets, returning to the inlet when mature and are believed to be five-year-old salmon. The run on Rivers Inlet is better than that on Skeena River in both size of fish and number running.

Dollar a Fish.
In the Northern waters the price paid by the canneries is 55 cents per fish for sockeyes, while on the Fraser River packers are offering as high as 75 cents and expect that even that price will not induce fishing on the Fraser this year. Several canneries expect to pay $1 per fish before the season is over and will bring the cost per case up to $14 for fish alone without cans, labor, or overhead.

The market for sockeye salmon is very good, some offerings coming in stand at $20 for flats and $18.75 for talls. One buyer offered $18.75 for 10,000 cases of talls. A particular feature of the market this year has been the demand for red Spring salmon which sold as high as $17.50 per case. The foreign markets are becoming very persistent about having their orders for sockeyes accepted, but in the matter of the cheaper grades the Canadian canneries find themselves in no position to compete with the United States dumping quotations.

States Underbids Canadians.
The latest figures quoted on the world's markets for United States sockeyes is $5 for flats, pink $4 and chums $4.50. Besides these low-grade fish the United States trade has an intermediate grade of salmon known as the Alaska reds, against which the Canadian canneries have no competitive quality in the same class. Of the lower grades of fish the Canadian market is carrying a small quantity of sockeyes and pink packed at a cost of about $12 per case against the United States $5 and $6 while price, while the least the Canadian chums can go on the market with any margin of profit is $5.00.

Vancouver, July 17.—The appointment of C. C. Kernahan to the position of accountant-cashier for the C. B. M. M. is announced by B. C. The Famous "Oven Test"

THE Royal Standard laboratory tests for uniformity and the various qualities required of every milling, so that it shall reach the standard, truly royal, set by us for this flour—these tests are concluded by the "oven-test." In this, our chemists actually bake bread in our own ovens—and such delicious, golden-crusted bread as you, madame, would enthusiastically endorse!

ROYAL STANDARD FLOUR

"Makes Lighter, Whiter Bread"

Bread, lighter and whiter, richer in gluten—the cell-building element—finer in texture, and more appetizing by far than ordinary bread, is the result. There can be no "bad batches" made from Royal Standard as you, madame, can prove, for this splendid product of the hard wheat is always alike.

If you have not already done so, won't you order a sack and prove for yourself how delicious and economical is the lighter, whiter bread made from ROYAL STANDARD.

BRIEF LOCALS

No Record Here.—No record of the Los Angeles earthquake is made on the seismograph at Gonzales Observatory, according to Supt. Denison to-day, on developing the record, from which he gathers it was a local disturbance.

Captured Cannon Coming.—A dispatch from Vancouver states that six war trophy guns are on their way to the coast, three for the city of Vancouver and three for this city, being part of the captured war ordnance allotted to this Province from Ottawa. Local authorities have not yet been advised of the date of arrival.

Strike at Cassidy.—J. D. McNiven, Deputy Minister of Labor, left this morning for Cassidy's Landing to make an investigation into certain conditions which have arisen between the miners and the Granby Consolidated Co. It is understood that the men have made certain demands which have been refused by the company; as a consequence mining operations have been stopped pending a settlement. Mr. McNiven will be back in town on Monday.

Premises Entered at Night.—F. F. Burton, of the Victoria Auto Livery, reported to the police that those premises, on View Street, entered during the night and the sum of $30.25 taken from a cash drawer. Entry was gained by a rear window, and the cash drawer was forced open. The report follows on a number of others, dealing with more petty thefts from houses and hotel rooms throughout the city. A wave of fruit stealing is in active progress, too, being mostly confined to small boys, who are making active play among the orchards of the district.

Should Look at the Clock.—How Bo, a Chinaman, for carrying a watch through the city streets after 8 a. m., was fined $10 with an additional levy of $2.50 for the services of Wing, the court interpreter. He pleaded that he had no watch, and did not know the time, but was reminded that a thoughtful citizen had placed a clock in the City Hall for the benefit of himself and others. James Kelly admitted being drunk and was fined $5. Lee Ginn Young, charged with perjury in that he is alleged to have sworn out false affidavits to the immigration authorities, was formally committed to trial, and was sent up for a higher court.

Comrades Transact Business.—The financial report rendered to the meeting of the Comrades of the Great War, a branch of the British Legion, in the club rooms of that organization, showed a balance of $5,350 in the sinking fund. The profit for the past month was stated at $589. Meals served at the club during the month of June totalled 1,850, which were rendered at a net loss of $32. Nominations were received for the eighteen delegates required for the convention to be held in Victoria on August 13-15, the full list to be chosen at the annual meeting. At a reception from the Football Association the Comrades decided to present a trophy for competition at the sports of the latter organization this summer. It was decided to send the band to Vancouver to compete for the Sloan Cup. Plans were furthered for a smoker to be held on July 21.

GARDEN FETE AT "CLOVERDALE" TO-DAY

Dancing on the Lawn This Evening; Proceeds For Health Centre

Residents of Saanich turned out in force for the garden fete, which is being held at "Cloverdale," the residence of the Misses Tolmie this afternoon and evening, and as a result the funds of the beneficiary institution, the Saanich Health Centre, should be materially augmented.

Dr. H. E. Young, Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, formally opened the exhibit at 3 o'clock, commending the organizers for their interest in the Saanich Health Centre, which he declared, was filling a much-needed need in the district, and wishing them every success in the venture. The assembled crowd, widely dispersed to the various booths, which were scattered about the lovely old gardens, and for the remainder of the afternoon business was brisk.

This evening dancing on the lawn will be a big attraction, and it is anticipated that there will be a big influx of the younger social set from Victoria to indulge in this popular pastime.

NO VOTE, CHINESE

HURLS BASKET

How Central Registry Came in Possession of Waste Paper Basket

So disappointed and annoyed was Charlie Yip that he could not be given the right to register on the new voters' list, and then vote at the next elections and on the prohibition plebiscite, that he took one of the vegetable baskets which he was carrying and threw it at the deputy registrar, who refused to fill out a form for him.

There were no vegetables in the basket, which was of a closely woven type. It missed the deputy registrar's head and bounded along one of the tables and down the room. Yip, roaring away in Chinese at the top of his voice, bounded out of the office.

The basket is now being used as the official waste basket of the Central office, Yates Street.

Commissioners who have the power to registrar voters must now swear themselves when they fill out their own affidavits, it was announced to-day. A number of commissioners who have put off until the last moment the registration of their own names have been turning in their own forms during the last couple of days. Now it has been discovered that these men have been signing their names in every blank and swearing to an affidavit with themselves as signer and witness.

There are some men on the list of commissioners, it has been discovered, who do not write. Some of these men have been busy getting in votes. For their signatures in the space supposed to be signed by the commissioners they merely put crosses as their mark. Officials say they do not think persons who cannot sign their own names can understand what the voter is filling in on the form. They also point out that where commissioners only make their marks there is no record of the person before whom the voter was sworn.

The total registration of voters up until this morning was 15,512 for Victoria and 3,447 for Esquimalt. Yesterday 273 registered in Victoria and 63 in Esquimalt. Registration will go on until the end of the month.

REJUVENATED BY "VITAL" TABLETS

People are to-day trying every means to keep young. Some are being fed on monkey glands, and others are having glands of other people injected into their system. The claim the method of injecting glands into the system is unnecessary. The revival of youth can be brought about by the use of the French rejuvenator, VITAL Tablets. A person of every description, who is generally dispirited, who feels like a person of twenty, who does not claim VITAL Tablets will do all this instantly, but by taking them regularly for time and time will depend upon the person, but one will gradually feel younger, and eventually you will come back to the hand of youth and pep. Brown's Men Connected When Hits Meant Runs

Midget Kelly Was Unable to Parry Onslaught and Scrappy Bill Leard Finished Game; Rapp's Delivery Puzzling to Locals.

Victoria, 1; Vancouver, 5.

Diminutive Tom Kelly essayed to pitch the Capitals to victory at the Stadium last evening but his ambitions were sent sky-rocketing when the industrious Beavers solved his delivery for five counters against the solitary run-chased in by the home squad. The game had been won before Manager Bill Leard ushered himself into the pitcher's box in the seventh inning, but it was not altogether Tiny Kelly's fault. Even the most optimistic slacker is prone to become disheartened when his team mates fail to back him up by hammering out a few runs.

The Capitals looked anything but a championship team. The sluggers evidently took a day off to recuperate from their efforts earlier in the week at Vancouver.

Hitless Wonders.

They may have been obsessed with an inclination to fatten their batting averages, but if so, they fell down in display advertising. Crafty Rapp had the Leard aggregation guessing most of the way. He uncovered a smoke ball that seemed to hypnotize the local swatters. There appears to be a tendency among the Capital batters when a couple of balls have been called, to wait them out, and pass up the good ones. It is hits that count in the run column. Both Cooper who won Thursday's game, and Rapp were easy for the Capitals at Vancouver, but on the local lot there seemed to be an element of mystery in their offerings. There's no denying it, it was an odd day with the locals.

Two in Third.

Bob Brown's braves started things moving in the third innings when two runners were sent over the plate. Messenger rapped one down the third foul line for two cushions. He was put out attempting to grab the second bag. Furtell walked and Scott, the next man up, picked one just to his liking for two bases. Dizzy Wilson helped the runners along by knocking out a two-bagger to right field, scoring Furtell and Scott. Tom Cunningham crossed the plate, scoring the locals' only tally in the third. He got a base on balls and slid to third when Messenger fumbled Kelly's grounder. He made home when Kelly was thrown out at the second corner. The Beavers got to Kelly for another run in the fourth. McNab singled and reached third when Patterson rapped out a double, crossing the pan on Rapp's sacrifice fly to left. Another run was chalked up by Vancouver in the next innings. Scott led off with a double and scored when Wiggins banged out a hot one for two sacks.

Leard in Box.

Bill Leard chased Kelly to the dug-out in the seventh and went in to pitch himself. The Beavers landed

VICTORIA TENNIS STARS WILL PLAY ON THE MAINLAND

Number of Local Players Enter Vancouver Open Tournament

A number of Victoria Lawn Tennis Club players will play in the Open Tournament of the Vancouver Lawn Tennis Club for the championships of the mainland. The competition will commence next Monday at the Shaughnessy Heights Courts. Among those who have entered are Mrs. Rickard, Miss Nemo, Mrs. Lemina, Miss Mayone Leming, J. S. Proctor, D. M. Gordon and others. Miss Idema, who holds the Ladies' Singles Championship of the mainland, will not be able to defend her title, having gone to the Comox District to live. Tennis has not been developed there to enable her to get practice.

Miss Lawson, the Ladies' Singles Champion of British Columbia, will not be a competitor this year, owing to pressure of business. For the same reason many of the gentlemen of the club are not making the trip. The Open Tournament of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club for the championships of British Columbia will be held this week, following that of the matches at Vancouver, commencing at ten o'clock on July 26. Keen interest is being taken in the tournament, it being the premier event in the Province. Last year a number of entries were received from outside points as far away as the Malay Straits, Montreal, Winnipeg, Edmonton, and the States of Washington, Oregon and California. Entries have been received from Miss Helen Baker, Mrs. Cushing, both of California. The latter lady was a competitor last year and reached the finals of the ladies singles. It is stated her play is much improved this season. Miss Baker is the champion of California, and with these two crack lady players entered the tournament, the field is strong. No doubt a large entry will be received from Vancouver, and a big entry from the club members and other local players. Entries close at six o'clock on Thursday, July 22, with the Victoria Secretary, J. G. Brown, P.O. Box 1140.

Preparations are being made for a large attendance of spectators and for the entertainment of the visitors. Various functions have been arranged, among those are a visit to the famous garden, the home of Mrs. R. P. Butchart, near Brentwood, and an evening visit to the Observatory on Spanish Mountain.

Special Tennis Dance on the Friday before the final, July 30. There will be eight different competitors as follows: Men's Singles, Ladies' Singles, Mixed Doubles, Veterans' Singles for men, fifty years and over, Singles for boys under twenty-one, and Consolation Singles for those competitors who were defeated in the first named of the Open Singles.

MAKES NEW GOLF RECORD.

Vancouver, July 14.—Dave Black, professional at Shaughnessy Heights Golf Club, who won the open championship at the P. N. G. A. tournament held here last week, to-day knocked the Shaughnessy course record all askew when he went the 18 holes in 67. The best previous record for the course is 72; it is 5,737 yards long.

Dave's performance to-day has given the popular pro a new idea; he is out to make it 65, and from the form he has been showing of late his ambition is considered quite within the realms of probability. He made nine holes in 67, seven in one under par and two in one above. His golf was characteristically steady.

Big Ball Conference in Session Here; Game Must Be Kept Clean, Says Head

L. H. Burnett, League President, and Officials From All Clubs Meet in City; Seattle Series of Next Week Transferred to Victoria.

To discuss important matters concerning the league, to arrange for the transfer of the series to be held in Seattle next week to Victoria, and to straighten out questions regarding a number of the games, L. H. Burnett, President of the Pacific International Baseball League, and the presidents of most of the league clubs, arrived in Victoria this morning. A conference of the league officials is being held during the day.

The party which reached the city to-day consists of Mr. Burnett himself, from Tacoma; W. J. Duthy, president of the Seattle Baseball Club; M. E. Ferris, president of the Spokane Club; Bob Brown, of the Vancouver Club; "Stub" Nelson, of the Tacoma Ledger, and John S. Barnes, secretary of the Tacoma ball team, representing the Tacoma Club; O. C. Oliver, president of the Yakima Club; C. W. Wheeler, Mr. Burnett's secretary; Elliott Metcalf, of the Tacoma Tribune; Roy Pinkerton, editor of the Tacoma Times, and Lloyd McDowell, representing the Portland Oregonian and the Seattle Times. Officials of the Victoria Club, including President J. T. O'Brien, also were present at this morning's conference.

To Transfer Series.

"First of all we have to decide upon the results of a number of the games and so forth, and generally clear up a few odds and ends of business," Mr. Burnett told The Times this morning upon arrival here. "And I may say in this connection that it has been decided to transfer from Seattle to Victoria, the series which was to have been held in the Sound City next week, so that there will be two straight weeks of Seattle here," said Mr. Burnett.

"I wish to commend most highly," Mr. Burnett observed, "Mr. O'Brien and Tom Hicks for the way they have handled baseball in Victoria. It has been really wonderful the way they helped along the stadium project, and rounded out such a fine ball team."

Leard Fined.

"Mr. Burnett declared that the recent violent incident in which Manager Bill Leard and Umpire McCoy figured here had been a matter of great regret to him, and he pointed out that he had fined Leard $100 for his part in the affair, and had warned him that a repetition of his action would cause his expulsion from the league for the year. "Baseball will be conducted cleanly so long as I am at the head of the league," Mr. Burnett asserted. "It is a great sporting game, and it must be kept so. Never again will there be a repetition of the incident which occurred here two weeks ago. Baseball is baseball, and when a fan goes to see a baseball game he doesn't expect to witness a prize fight. And he certainly is not going to witness a prize fight in this league as long as I am president of it."

The Pacific International League, I may say, is holding together most satisfactorily, and each team will play out the season in splendid shape. It has been a very hard task to carry on but we have succeeded. The league will handle this year about $500,000 in receipts and disbursements. So you see it is no small enterprise. The pay roll for players alone approximates $100,000 for the season, while the travelling expenses and so forth bring the sum which the league has handled up to about half a million."

BURNS HAD TO QUIT IN SEVENTH ROUND TO DECIDE FUTURE OF VICTORIA TEAM

Joe Beckett Was Too Much and His Seconds Threw Up Sponge

Meeting To-day Will Be of Vital Concern to Local Lacrosse

London, July 17.—Tommy Burns, one time heavyweight champion pugilist of the world, was stopped in the seventh round of what was to have been a twenty-round bout in Albert Hall last night, by Joe Beckett, heavyweight champion of England.

The seconds of the French-Canadian fighter threw up the sponge after Burns had taken counts of seven and nine. Burns protested and desired to continue the unequal fight, but his plea was unavailing. It was clearly a fight in which brute strength was pitted against age. Burns is nearly thirteen years older than Beckett, and he has not been engaged in a big boxing match for many years. Three months of hard training had not reduced his waist line, and he appeared to be sluggish when the fight began.

It seemed that Beckett could have ended the bout in the second round, when Burns, to save himself, repeatedly clinched after "having received a series of blows to the head and body. Nevertheless, the ex-champion came back in the third, and this was his best round. He out-boxed and out-fought Beckett. His blows, however, lacked the old-time strength and he could not hurt his rugged opponent.

CRICKET MEETING.

All local cricket clubs are asked to send representatives to an important meeting of the Cricket Tournament Committee on Monday evening at half past eight at the Douglas Hotel.

Victoria Gets a Lead On Visiting Clubs in First Day of Regatta

Showing of Bays' 140-Pounders in Junior Fours, Brilliant Rowing of Kent and MacLaren in the Junior Doubles and Mechanical Action of Mariacher's Crew in Junior Fours Outstanding Features; Bays Conceded Good Chance of Lifting Cup.

Shawnigan Lake, Friday Evening.—The standing of the clubs as a result of the first day's racing in the N. P. A. A. O. regatta is as follows:

Club	Firsts	Seconds	Points
J. B. A. A. Victoria	1	2	5
Portland Rowing Club	1	1	4
Vancouver Rowing Club	1	0	3

(By the Times Sporting Editor)

Shawnigan Lake, Friday Evening.—Victoria is one up on Portland and has a two-point lead on Vancouver as a result of the junior events in the N. P. A. A. O. regatta, which were held here this afternoon. The Bays are now conceded a splendid chance of grabbing the Aggregate Cup. The 140-pounders stroked by Johnson, who pulled a brilliant race in the junior fours to-day, are looked upon as likely winners in their proper class to-morrow. Billie Kennedy will have some opposition in the senior singles, but it is expected that his form will drive him to victory over his heavier opponents. Kent and MacLaren should experience no great difficulty in rushing their boat across the line in the senior doubles. Whether the Bays' senior four will succeed in putting the heavier Portland four in their wake or not is the main question disturbing the minds of the oarsmen to-night. It is expected that these two crews will be fighting for first place although it would not surprise some here if the Vancouver juniors who won to-day upset the dope and poked the nose of their shell across first in a fighting finish. The form they displayed to-day entitles them to some consideration. Although the Bays are considerably elated over their victories and their chances on the morrow they have sealed their lips so far as idle boasting goes. They did not do much

America Beats England For Davis Cup; Can Now Challenge Australasia

Wimbledon, Eng., July 17.—(Associated Press).—America today won the right to challenge Australasia for the Davis Cup, the international lawn tennis trophy. Johnston and Tilden, the American pair, defeated Parks and Kingscott, of Great Britain, in the double match, giving the Americans three straight matches and a victory in the competition with the British Davis Cup team.

The doubles match to-day went five sets, the Americans winning 8-6, 4-6, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2.

bathed in perspiration before they had completed many sweeps with their oars.

A fair crowd, which sat in the grandstand, on the bouthouses, in boats and on the water, watched the race. When the crews were down on the finishing line they rose up and cheered lustily and just as soon as the excitement subsided, they relaxed to fan themselves.

Junior Singles Away.

At 2:30 o'clock, Starter Dan O'Sullivan lined up the junior singles at the south end of the lake. C. B. Boyington, the Coeur d'Alene entry, had the east shore and Hay Currie, of the Bays, was on the west side, with Jack McDonald, of Portland, in the centre. For very little difficulty, J. J. Shalleross pulled the trigger of a shotgun and good blades dug into the water forming little eddies and the first race in the twenty-fourth regatta of the North Pacific Association of Amateur Oarsmen was under way.

The scullers had not gone far before it was realized that the race would be between Hay Currie and McDonald. Boyington sailed upon a very long stroke, in which he seemed to over-reach himself. He quickly dropped in the rear. McDonald pulled a long powerful stroke, while Currie dug in with a much quicker and shorter stroke. Off Strathcona Lodge, the Bay's entry put on a short spurt and cut down McDonald's lead. But McDonald was rowing steadily and off the sawmills he opened up water between his boat and Hay Currie. Boyington continued to sail back. Between the half-way flag and the finishing line, McDonald continued to increase his lead and was a couple of lengths ahead when his fragile craft swiftly glided passed the finishers.

Weather Became Hot. In the morning it was generally believed that the weather would be ideal for rowing as the mercury kept well down and there was little sun to bother the oarsmen. But shortly after noon the clouds disappeared and Old Sol showed up in a manner that could not be mistaken. By the time the first race was scheduled the heat was great, and most of the crews stripped to their trunks. Their backs glistened and they became better than get an even break in the events to-day but anticipate a better showing to-morrow. They joined with the visiting clubs in praise of the splendid sportsmanship shown by all those who competed to-day. There was a lot of hard rowing but every crew kept well to its course and eliminated all chance of fouling.

The Big Surprise. The big surprise of the afternoon was provided in the second race when the 140-pound crew of the J. B. A. A. with Pauline (bow), Tom Temple, W. Cummins, J. Johnson, stroked, out-rowed three of the five entries. It was a great surprise and the boys, three of whom are under 20 years of age, were the recipients of numerous congratulations. The fact that they beat out the Bays' junior crew stroked by Bobbie Travis, does not mean that they scored a clear-cut victory, because Frost, rowing No. 3, broke his rowlock, and rather than drop out these oarsmen pluckily finished the race.

Boys' Boat in Trouble. The Vancouver boat stroked by Mariacher made a quick getaway, and was never headed. The Bays' 140 pound crew seemed a little unsteady at the start, but the veteran Johnson soon got his youngsters settled, and they began to crawl slowly up on the rap of the other shells. The Bays' junior ran into trouble on the third stroke when Frost's rowlock failed to withstand an extra effort and snapped. Only Travis and Frost were aware of the accident, and Bendroit and Arbrister knuckled down to the task of overhauling the leaders, and neither Travis nor Frost would acknowledge defeat so early. It was not long before the Bays' juniors were lagging four lengths in the rear. This was most disappointing as they were looked upon as likely contenders for the cup. However, they managed to crawl up slightly, but the broken oarlock continued to give trouble. Naturally the crew are dissatisfied with their showing, and while they personally do not claim that they would have won they are anxious to have a chance of redeeming themselves. This chance has come. To-morrow afternoon they will enter in the senior fours, and will then find whether or not they could have stood off the Vancouver crew stroked by Mariacher.

Mariacher Goes Ahead. When the four were off Strathcona Lodge Mariacher's boat had drawn out into the lead by a considerable margin. This crew was rowing well together and strongly. The Bays' 140-pounder, and Portland and the Vancouver crew stroked by MacKay, were struggling with but a few inches separating their bows. At the half-way flag Portland showed signs of flagging while the MacKay crew and the 140-pounders continued to row strongly.

The machine-like rowing of Mariacher's crew kept pushing them further into the lead. When three-quarters of the course had been covered Portland seemed to be rowing badly and altered course so that the bow of its boat just passed under the stern of the Vancouver shell stroked by MacKay. With Portland dropping back and the Mariacher crew well in front the race developed into a battle between the MacKay boat and the Bays' gritty 140 pounders. The latter showed wonderful stamina, and in the final spurt outrowed Vancouver. It was a wonderful performance of the youngsters, who threw every ounce of strength into their work, and fought gamely against their heavier and more experienced opponents.

Are Big Favorites. As a result of their excellent showing Johnson's crew immediately became the favorite in the 140-pound race. The Portland juniors are credited with victories over their 140-pound crew, so this augurs well for the Bays.

The best race of the afternoon was provided in the junior doubles. Five crews faced the starting line. The Vancouver boat had the west shore; Victoria had No. 1 position on the east shore; Coeur d'Alene was No. 2; Portland No. 3, and Victoria's second entry No. 4.

At this stage of the regatta Victoria has not achieved the honor of winning a first, and its entries were both dark horses, so this augurs well for the Bays.

Two Pretty Contests. Off Strathcona Lodge MacLaren and Kent were leading Portland by a length on the side of the course, while on the west shore Vancouver and Victoria's second crew were sculling along on even terms. Coeur d'Alene again found the going too fast and rapidly dropped in the rear. Between the lodge and the sawmills the Coeur d'Alene boat cut into the centre of the course. This divided the race into two merry contests, one between the Vancouver entry and the Bay's second boat, with Hay Currie and Harold Bendroit, and the other between Portland and Victoria's other entry, Kent and MacLaren. Off the mills Portland quickened their stroke and cut down the lead on Victoria, while on the other side of the course Vancouver opened up water over the Bay's boat.

Gradually Victoria and Portland drew away and the race eventually developed into a battle between these sculls. Portland had a heavy, powerful crew, and it was questionable as to whether the Victoria crew would be able to stand off the final effort. To the surprise of everyone Kent and MacLaren, rowing steady and well, continued to drive their boat farther into the lead. When it came to the final sprint the Victoria boys had it over Portland. Victoria's finish was the finest and most exhilarating of the day. The crowds went wild when they discovered that a Victoria boat had crossed the line first.

PROTEST UPHELD AND PEDEN WINS

Awards Announced in Recent Victoria and Sidney Bicycle Race

The Dominion Day Sports Committee of Sidney has handed down its decision in the Victoria to Sidney bicycle race dispute, and has upheld Tom Peden's protest against D. M. Allen for holding to an automobile during the race. Voluntary evidence was given by disinterested parties, substantiating Peden's claim.

The prizes are awarded as follows: First, T. Peden, a silver cup; second, C. Pollerson, a chair donated by Weller Bros.; third, C. Staples, auto pump presented by the Auto Supply Company, Douglas street; fourth, to Leslee Deacon, of Sidney, a fountain pen. Victoria winners may get their prizes or orders for same from Peden Bros., Yates Street. The Sidney winner may secure his prize at the Sidney Hotel.

STAGE ALL SET FOR MINTO CUP CONTEST

Vancouver, July 17.—The stage is all set for big doings to-day at Athletic Park, when Vancouver and New Westminster lacrosse teams will stage another of their tight battles in the 1920 Minto Cup series, which has developed into the closest race in many years.

With both teams at full strength and the count in the series four and two, with the famous Selkirk on the line, and fans are looking forward to a torrid engagement. Fred Lynch will referee to-day's game, handling it alone. The officials of the rival clubs believe that Lynch will be able to curb any rough play.

ROYAL VICTORIA

William Farnum, in "Wings of the Morning," will be seen for the last time to-night at the Royal Victoria Theatre. This photodrama is filled with thrilling situations and the eminent William Fox star never has been seen in a more heroic and picturesque role. One of the great outstanding features of this great picture is the realistic ocean liner wreck.

DOMINION

Douglas MacLean laid himself open to a charge of professional jealousy during the filming of the latest Thomas H. Ince picture starring himself and Don May, "Mary's Ankle," which is now at the Dominion. True to the title of the picture, the pretty ankle of Miss May came in for a large share of the attention of Mr. MacLean acting as ministering angel armed with bandages and liniment. But during the "shooting" of some of the most scenic in the film, Doug, fell down and ran up the side of the glass into his knee. A physician was called, and work had to be stopped on the picture for several days.

When he came back to the "set," Mr. MacLean was annoyed to find several members of the company smiling at him knowingly. Director Lloyd Ingraham capped the climax.

"It's no use," he said to the young star, "this picture is going to be called 'Mary's Ankle,' and your efforts to have it changed to 'Doug's Knee' won't have the slightest effect."

VARIETY

In "Girl of the Sea," the attraction at the Variety for to-day, the West Indian scene is a picture of the ocean where many pictures were taken through a wonderful invention known as the Submarine Tube, which enables the operator to take photographs of the wonderful life on the ocean's bed. All of the scenes were taken in the tropics, and most of them on a little "island" in the West Indies, where the action of the story is laid. Here a girl has been cast ashore during a shipwreck years ago, and has lived most of her life alone, depending on the natural resources of her surroundings for her subsistence. With the coming of a rescuing party, a lively drama follows, in which the girl is full of suspense and intense situations with thrills aplenty. They include a battle with a giant octopus, a fight in the shrouds of the ship, attempted assassinations on the ocean, and the efforts of a band of scoundrels to get possession of the wealth that rightfully belongs to the girl. The wonderful botanical garb of the southern seas with their variegated inhabitants and marine life, are among the beautiful scenes shown in the photoplay, which is an entirely different production from anything shown before on the screen.

COLUMBIA

Mary Pickford has a most versatile part in her latest production from her own studios, "The Hoodlum," which will be seen to-day at the Columbia Theatre. Amy Burke, played by Miss Pickford, is first seen as the pampered granddaughter of the wealthy Alexander Guthrie, a hard-hearted man, whose love is confined only to his money and to Amy. Besides her father, Amy is blessed by no other relatives. And the father is a sociological writer whose work makes imperative his presence in the toughest and most sordid tenement street in New York.

PANTAGES

Two more performances will be given this evening of this week's bill of Pantages vaudeville, which has proved one of the especially popular entertainment programmes of the Summer season. It is headlined by "Odiva" with her reasonable aquatic feature, which is one of the very best ever presented on the vaudeville stage. There are five other fine entertainment offerings, among them Dorothy Manning and Harry Lee, who are doing a nifty song and dance turn greatly to the taste of the audiences. Their act, which is called "After the Matinee," is stamped with originality throughout. Their comments are of the highest order.

Ever since Miss Compton first made known the fact that she had formed her own producing company there has been speculation as to just which of the big distributing organizations would market her pictures. Practically all of the releasing units sought to handle Miss Compton's productions, but after giving considerable thought to the various proposals she decided that Goldwyn offered the fairest system of distribution.

Miss Compton's meteoric rise to stardom was the result of her remarkable portrayal of the role of "Rose" in the George Loane Tucker production of "The Miracle Man." She had previously been known principally through her appearance in comedies, but following the appearance of "The Miracle Man" demands were made by exhibitors and the public alike that she appear as a star and practically all of the big producers offered her contracts.

Miss Compton, who personally produced her first starring vehicle, "Prisoners of Love," which will be presented early this fall. She plans to make about four pictures each year and every one of her first half dozen productions will be entirely different from both the standpoint of the theme and the character, and her own stellar characterization.

CHANGE IN CLOSING

DATE OF SCHOOL CHILDREN'S CONTEST

A contest for school children was announced in these columns recently by the Shoe Manufacturers' Association of Canada. The subject was "Why you should buy Canadian Made Shoes." The closing date of the competition was given as June 30, but it has now been extended to September 30. This extension of time will give the boys and girls now working on their papers more time to collect information on the subject and make their essays more interesting. eddy patter is often and well handled, and they do not resort to vulgarity for "punch." Both have wonderful stage personalities, and their numbers particularly are appreciated. Miss Manning's twin sister, Alice, appears on the same bill in a "single" singing act, and the conclusion of "After the Matinee" the two girls sing two exclusive numbers which generally prove to be the "hit" of the show.

SALE OF SEATS
BEGAN TO-DAY FOR
"DANDY DICK"

The performance on Monday night to be given at the Pantages Theatre by the Victoria Dramatic and Operatic Club, under the auspices of the Kiwanis Club in aid of the Jubilee Hospital Building fund will be military night, and is under the patronage of Brig.-Gen. Ross, C. M. G., D.S.O. Two officers of the garrison, Major Prideaux and Major Hendy, are taking the same parts as they had seven years ago, in Kingston, Ont., where they were both stationed at that time. Mrs. Prideaux as Georgina, and Major Hendy as Dandy Dick, also took the same part on the same occasion, and thus with three members of a cast wholly composed of former stars of the old Hineke Princess Players, the audiences are at least assured of a "Good run for their money."

The sale of seats for Monday and Tuesday commenced to-day, and patrons are earnestly requested to be in their seats at 8:30 p. m. on each night as the curtain will go up with military punctuality, and nothing is so annoying to both players and audience as to have, as is so usual, a stream of people entering the theatre after the play has begun.

NAZIMOVA AT
DOMINION NEXT WEEK

Nazimova, one of the greatest of screen stars, has chosen for her latest production, one of Frank Danby's most celebrated novels, "The Heart of a Child." In this Nazimova has an unusual role, that of a girl of a London Cockney girl, who is forced to face the world with no other means of protection than her innate goodness, her inborn sense of what is right, and her child's heart. How she latterly becomes a celebrated London Theatrical star, and is drawn into fashionable society forms a stirring picture and presents Nazimova with all the witchery of her art in a play worthy of her.

Announcement is made simultaneously by the Goldwyn Distributing Corporation and Betty Compton Productions that Goldwyn is to distribute Miss Compton's starring pictures.

MOTOR EXPLETIVES!

Never before in all the years of our life have we appreciated the value of the expletive until one day last week, when we innocently attempted to pass a woman driving an electric.

It was simply terrible. Only those who have been through a similar encounter themselves can appreciate our anguish. We turned this way—we turned that way. All to no avail. As a result, we— together with housemaids and steel workers—have a platform. We want more and better expletives. If we are to be denied the liberty of passing an electric we should at least be given the satisfaction of unburdening our outraged feelings in the secrecy of our own heart. This requires a goodly library of expletives.

One volume could apply to the frolicsome delivery boy who speeds merrily across Main Street at 25. Probably two volumes could be devoted profitably to the six-ton truck-driver. Nor should we forget the non-dimming drivers and the timid little man who heretically stays one lap behind the street car, thus causing a long string of machines to make all regular stops in unison with the motorman.

Let our battle cry be: "Expletives for all!"

CURE OIL LEAK

A good way to prevent oil leaking out of the crankcase through the bolt holes is to back off the studs a quarter of an inch or so and then wind several turns of cotton twine around the bolts. When you again draw the studs down onto their seats, the leakage will be overcome. The string acts as a packing material and is very effective.

Woodland, Lakeside and Seascapes, Within Short Motor Journey

Little known route across Saanich peninsula presents diversified views for pedestrian and motorist; small cost would give excellent road.

How many of the hundreds of motorists who have travelled the Saanich peninsula know that it is possible to cross—or rather almost to cross—the peninsula by car, and yet take a route which embraces seascapes, woodland and lakeside? Such a route is possible, embracing, in miniature, the wonders of remarkably varied scenery associated with the island; if the motorist is willing to make some allowance for the chances of getting bogged in moist places.

Following the beaten path as far as Cordova Bay, with the glorious smoothness of Shelbourne Street, and the well travelled gravel of Mount Douglas Park, after a brief glance at the majestic sweep of the Bay, the real trans-peninsula journey begins.

A Rugged Road.
The first section is the old connecting road between Cordova Bay crossing the C.N.R. right-of-way, to the East Saanich Road. No one would pretend the road is in good shape, in fact it has been merely patched from time to time to make room for the proposed new road which would run from the East Road on an easier grade to the Bay. The location, from a scenic standpoint, is very fine with timber, and glimpses of the Gulf as the grade rises to the level of the plateau of the peninsula.

Next comes a section on a hard surface road back to the entrance to the City Elk Lake watershed property which is fenced off by a gate from the travelled highway. Entering the field which is shaded by a clump of timber, the motorist soon finds himself in the third, and perhaps the most delightful portion of the drive.

A Sinuous Trail

The way winds through the bush by a sinuous trail, which has served for an occupation road, but which is naturally soft in places owing to the tramp of cattle. It runs out to Beaver Lake, near the lower lake and opposite the flatter beach. Here is located the boy's camp, which will be followed next month by the Girl Guides in camp.

Two Routes

An alternative presents itself with regard to the method of reaching the West Road, either by the private pipe line road, or by the Beaver Lake highway, which is in fair shape for motor travel, but, naturally, being only a secondary road, does not present any temptation to scorching.

On emerging on the highroad beyond Royal Oak, the fourth section of the journey opens itself, after a short trip to Goward on the paved highway. The road to Prospect Lake leaves the West Road at the B.C. Electric station, and follows a tortuous, but attractive path through the forest, coming out eventually, by fern and flower at the main approach from Prospect station on the inter-urban line.

Te rugged character of the land between Prospect Lake and the Saanich Arm prevents motor touring successfully, only trails remaining, but the portion which is open would, with a little expense, make a beautiful tour for pedestrians and motorists, affording every variety of scenery within a brief trip, and providing every phase of wild life and native flora.

RUSTY RIMS MAY DAMAGE TIRES

Iron rust eats into canvas very quickly, and for this reason rims should be examined and cleaned a few times each season. Assuming that the rim is clean, as it should be when the tire is attached, it may be kept so indefinitely if proper attention is given to keep the rims straight and if the locking nut on the valve stem is drawn tight so that no water can work in through the hole in the rim.

If, on inspection, the rim is found to be rusty, even though merely small spots, the rust should be sandpapered off and the rim given a coat of graphite or thin shellac. Ordinarily stove polish, which contains graphite, is also effective for preventing rust and making it easy to remove a tire in case of an emergency.

Any dent or bend in a rim should be corrected as soon as discovered, for if the bend is inward a great strain is brought on the bend and side of the casing. If the bend happens to be outward there is a fine chance for water, oil and dirt to work in between tire and rim.

Out of approximately 7,000,000 motor vehicles in the United States, 650,000 are used for commercial purposes.

A motor hospital, which visits remote districts to treat patients, is operated by the health department in Chicago.

Though horses are bred on a large scale in Canada, statistics show that they are gradually supplanting them on farms there.

More than 3,000 women are studying motor mechanics in the Knights of Columbus vocational schools throughout the country.

Motor car license fees in British Columbia range from $15 to $45, according to the horsepower.

The number of automobiles in use in the United States by the end of this year is estimated at 9,953,848.

HARD TO PUMP BIG TRUCK TIRES

The growing popularity of the pneumatic tire for trucks has created a problem in the manufacture of air pumps powerful enough to inflate such big casings. The average air compressor has the strength to inflate tubes for passenger car pneumatics, but so much greater pressure is necessary for truck tires that only a couple of makes are adequate. The tire manufacturers are working with the pump men to devise apparatus powerful enough for the job.

NO DECLINE IN PRICES OF TIRES

Present Quotations Practically Same As Existed Two Years Ago

By J. C. Kerrison

While not generally recognized, it is a fact that the average price of motor shoes and inner tubes remains practically at the level of two years ago.

In some instances the cost is slightly less and in other sizes it is greater, but in no single instance on popular sized shoes is there a more than a few dollars' difference in the prices of 1918.

This is rather surprising in that the cost of material, the cost of production and the cost of transportation and selling have materially increased. The general impression is that the purchaser is to-day paying the highest recorded price for tires, and there is a feeling that a general reduction may occur in a very short time, this idea having been more or less developed by experiences in other industries.

The probabilities of such a reduction are decidedly remote. On the other hand, there is a possibility of an increase. There has been no over-production in motor shoes or inner tubes, there has been no decline in the price of raw material or labor and the peak of demand has not yet been reached.

As a matter of fact, local demand for shoes and inner tubes is far below the normal for this season of the year, owing to the unusually cold weather. The tires of a year ago are still holding up, and the big demand will not come until exceedingly hot weather begins to be operative on tires that have been on wheels for the past winter.

Cotton Yarn Costly

One of the elements having an important bearing on price is the cost of cotton yarn of the character fitted to be used in construction of motor tires. To-day this particular ingredient costs at wholesale approximately $1.60 a pound, whereas a few years ago it could be obtained for 40 per cent of that figure. The cost of rubber is virtually the same as it was two years ago, as a matter of fact, the cost of rubber has not for many years been as important in the regulation of price as has the cost of cotton yarn.

During the past two years the price of labor has materially increased. So too has the cost of transportation, which is to-day touching the high spots, with every indication of soaring higher.

These conditions change materially from time to time, and it is really to anticipate a decline, more particularly so in view of the fact that prices to-day are the same as they were two years ago, as shown by the following tables of prices on popular sized shoes, showing the prices of 1918 and the prices of 1920. These are taken from the consumers' price list of three of the leading manufacturers who are herein designated by numerals rather than firm names.

MOTORISTS FANCY LOWEST NUMBERS

New York, July 17.—There is apparently great faith in the talismanic effect of low numbers on automobiles. So many motorists, particularly in the New York territory, want them that the Secretary of State has had to provide fifteen series of low numbers with letters starting at A. These numbers run to about 1,000 in each series. In other words, there are about 15,000 persons, most of whom believe they are getting a little bit of it in some way by having such numbers on their cars.

This does not, of course, apply to all the owners of cars that display low numbers. In some cases the numbers were provided for them without their special request.

There is another interesting manifestation of the desire to make a special display. This is in the matter of New York State shields, which some automobilists have mounted on their cars. The Secretary of State is authority for the statement that no one has any authority to issue such a shield. Individuals take the liberty of having them made personally, but there is no official authorization for any private person to display such a shield. Of course, the idea usually is to give the impression that it is an official car and by this means to get away with something.

Some persons have a fancy for displaying badges, and perhaps it is with this idea in view that the Secretary of State's office a great many years ago started the custom of appointing special inspectors to serve without pay, attached to the automobile bureau. The appointment carries with it a blue and gold badge, and for those who like that sort of thing that is the sort of thing they like. A word of friendly advice to the motorist who owns one of these badges, and that is not to flash it on a policeman in the metropolitan district. It may go a whole lot better in the suburbs and the rural districts, but an attempt to overawe a metropolitan policeman with it will find the motorist who does so S.O.L.

Motor Annoyances? Here Are a Few Cures

By W. E. Schaaff

Now and then the owner is sorely troubled by a mysterious popping of his motor which makes its appearance particularly when he drives with a wide open throttle. If the popping disappears when the accelerator pedal is released for a while it is an almost certain indication that something is wrong in the vacuum tank if the car has been idle for some time and the vacuum tank drained, the flapper valve, being dry, may refuse to seat properly. Before dismantling the tank, unscrew the plug in the top of the tank and introduce a small quantity—half pint or so—of gasoline; this will moisten the valve, wash off sediment and secure a better seat. Should the tank refuse to function after this is done, disconnect the pipe leading to the carburetor and drain the vacuum tank. Hold a finger over this tube and over the vent opening. If a continuous suction is felt through either tube when the engine is operated or turned over with the throttle closed this may be taken as an indication that the flapper valve is not closing properly and that air is admitted from the reservoir to the upper vacuum chamber through the flapper valve.

To clean the valve, remove the inner chamber by taking out the retaining screws and after removing the vacuum chamber and head remove any collection of dirt that has accumulated in the two small retaining screws and spaces. Hold the flapper valve on one finger of your open hand and remove any collection of dirt that may be on the surface of the valve with a very smooth flat file—a spark plug file will do. Do not use sand paper or emery cloth since this has a tendency to make the seat uneven. With very light pressure on the valve the file should be pushed across it in one direction, the valve being turned through a fraction of a turn and the operation repeated.

If there is a collection of dirt on the seat on which the flapper valve closes this also should be removed with a file in the same manner, but extreme care should be used to leave the surface perfectly flat and smooth.

Flooding of the vacuum tank will result from leaky float. This causes excessive gasoline consumption and loading of the engine at nearly any speed. To locate leaks in the float, immerse it in hot water. Bubbles will indicate the escape of air. Punch a hole in top and bottom of the float and drain out all gasoline and water and solder up the openings made as well as the original leak. Do not use an excessive amount of solder, since that would increase the weight of the float and disturb the operation. Test the float after soldering it.

Particular care should be taken to see that the cork gaskets on the top of the tank are not damaged on removal of the head of vacuum chamber. These gaskets are put on with shellac before being replaced. If they are broken new gaskets should be secured.

It is a good plan to clean the vacuum tank periodically by introducing gasoline through the plug at the top after disconnecting the gasoline line to the carburetor. This will flush out any sediment that may have collected in the bottom.

A seized piston can be a troublesome item, particularly if it occurs where and when the motorist is unable to secure help in extricating himself from the difficulty.

The first thing to do is to make certain that the tightness is not in some other part of the car, as the differential or the transmission. Thus, as a matter of precaution, the rear wheels should be jacked up and both wheels turned while the transmission is in neutral and the emergency brake disengaged. If the wheels turn freely the indications are that there is a seized piston. It is assumed, of course, that every other reasonable means has been tried, such as starting the engine by means of the electric starter re-inforced by a man at the crank handle.

If all attempts at securing a start have been unsuccessful as far as this the spark plugs should be removed or the pet cocks opened and a liberal quantity of kerosene poured into all cylinders, since you naturally do not know in which cylinder the seizing has occurred. By this time an accommodating brother motorist should be hailed and induced to tow the incapacitated car a little distance—a hundred or two hundred feet—using your tire chains if no tow rope is available. When the car is well under way the transmission should be slipped in "high" and the clutch engaged in such a way that it slips to some little extent; this slipping is rather important since it prevents more serious mishap likely to occur should the offending piston refuse to budge altogether.

After the engine has started under its own power, it should be stopped and turned over a number of times by hand. Then, if the kerosene supply has been liberal it is a good plan to drain the crank case and pour in new cylinder oil. Needless to say, the motor should be run carefully and slowly until the new oil has had time to reach the pistons and cylinder walls.

There are a number of causes which contribute to power losses in an engine and not the least of them is a partially stopped up or clogged muffler. It is natural that the often narrow and tortuous passages of the muffler should be choked with carbon after a year's use. Very often a remarkable improvement in engine efficiency is secured with no greater trouble than a temporary cleaning of the muffler which should be beaten with a wooden mallet or a piece of wood; this will loosen the worst accumulations which will then be blown out through the tail pipe. If the car is equipped with a muffler cut-out and there is a noticeable difference in power when the cut-out is closed and open, a cleaning of the muffler, as indicated, should be undertaken at once.

One reason why carburetor adjustments made by the owner, now and then, don't seem to "stick" is that too often such adjustments are made before the engine is well warmed up. Always make it a point to get your motor about as warm as it would be in a run of several miles.

THE INVENTION OF NECESSITY

He had been born tired, but Nature had not supplemented this characteristic with an immunity from the pangs of hunger.

He had been cowering under the thatched roof of a little cottage for some time, wondering how he could procure a meal for himself, while the rain pelted down, a continual reminder that his bootsoles were of the thinnest.

At last the rector's wife hove in sight, hurrying along under the cover of a huge umbrella, and the hungry man accosted her with his well-practiced whine.

"Spare a copper, kind lady," he begged. "I have an aged mother dependent on me."

"But surely," said the good woman, "you can find some means of supporting her? Necessity, you know, is the mother of invention."

"Not as regards me, lady," replied the tramp, sadly. "I'm hungry, and I don't mind confessing that in my case, mother is the invention of necessity!"—Tit-Bits.

THAT "GAS" SHORTAGE

There seems to be a conflict of opinion as to whether or not we are on the verge of gasoline shortage. Some reports have it that we are cutting into our surplus every month and have to import fuel oil in order to keep going. Other reports have it that there is new drilling being done now that wasn't done last year and that there will soon be plenty of gasoline. Our guess is that there will be plenty of gasoline.

Victoria Scientist Makes Discovery of Parasite of Typhus Epidemic

Dr. John Todd, Son of Mrs. J. H. Todd, Now on Way Back From Research Work in Poland.

Has World-Wide Reputation As Parasitologist; Instrumental in Isolating Sleeping Sickness Germ.

For many months past the columns of the press throughout the world have been filled with harrowing reports of the terrible ravages wrought in central Europe by typhus. In no country, perhaps, has the loss of life been so terrible as in Poland, where the people are engaged in a dual warfare—against the Bolshevik forces and against the scourge of typhus—and incontrovertible figures and facts prove that of the two enemies the disease is the most dreaded.

Leading scientists of the world have studied the disease in an attempt to discover the nature of the germ with which little success hitherto. But to Dr. John L. Todd, Associate Professor of Parasitology at McGill University, eldest son of Mrs. J. H. Todd, 1011 Fairfield Road, and brother of Alderman Todd, falls the great distinction of having successfully isolated the parasite responsible for the disease, after a period of strenuous research work in Poland.

Brilliant Record.

Recognized as an authority on tropical diseases, Dr. Todd was appointed in January last to an important commission of scientists delegated to visit Europe and study the typhus epidemic in an endeavor to devise means of preventing the spread of the disease. The expedition which included Dr. Todd, Dr. Wolbach, of Boston; four or five professional men, three technicians and a party of nurses left Boston in January, proceeding to Paris, where they completed their equipment before leaving for Poland.

The selection of Dr. Todd, the only Canadian on the commission, to become a member of the body, was a tribute to his reputation as a research parasitologist and came as a sequel to much scientific work of value in the Congo Free State, Senegambia and other areas in Africa. Born in Victoria and educated up till the age of thirteen by his mother, Dr. Todd then went to Upper Canada School and finally to McGill University, where he showed extraordinary ability, taking an eight-year course in six and graduating in science at an unusually early age.

Discovered "Trypanosomes."

Later he attended the Tropical School of Medicine at Liverpool, England, and when only twenty-four years of age was sent by that institution to the Gambia Protectorate, Africa, to study sleeping sickness. In the next year he paid a return visit to the Congo Free State under the direction of the Belgian Government and the Liverpool School of Tropical Medicine, and from 1905 till 1907 was director of the tropical research laboratory at the latter institution. As the result of his labors, Dr. Todd was instrumental in making practically the first discoveries in man of the animal parasites known to science as "trypanosomes," and in determining their relations to sleeping sickness. Some idea of the difficulties encountered by Dr. Todd in the course of his research work in Africa may be judged by the fact that his partner in the expedition became infected with the sleeping sickness and died, and to Dr. Todd fell the melancholy task of burying him with his own hands in an African jungle.

King Edward's Letter.

In recognition of his achievements, Dr. Todd received the degree of D.Sc. from Liverpool University and the Mary Kingsley Gold Medal from the Liverpool School of Tropical Medicine. He was also created a Commander of the Order of Leopold II. by the father of the present King of the Belgians. In this connection it is interesting to note that on the conference of this distinction on Dr. Todd he received a personal letter from King Edward, pointing out that while the King congratulated the scientist upon the honor conferred upon him, the knighthood did not give him precedence over a British knight. Dr. Todd counts this letter as one of his greatest treasures, valuing it even more highly than the decorations to which he referred. In 1914, Dr. Todd was one of the first to volunteer his services in connection with No. 3 (McGill) Canadian General Hospital, with which unit he served with distinction overseas.

Dr. Wolbach, the other scientist on the Commission, has also a world-wide reputation for research work. For some time past he has been making a study of Rocky Mountain fever and typhus in Mexico, and his investigations have proved of tremendous help in the Commission's work in Poland.

Poland Overcrowded.

After arriving in Poland and deciding to make their headquarters at Warsaw, the Commission found many difficulties besetting their path. Reaching Warsaw early in February, they were allocated two wards in the typhus hospital with the addition of good clinical laboratories and less satisfactory living quarters. So terribly overcrowded was the city—in fact the whole of Poland—that living conditions were terrible, and the Commission found it necessary to live three in a room.

Considerable delay was experienced in starting the work owing to the difficulty in obtaining the necessary servants and assistants. Conditions extant throughout the country and the utter absence on the part of the people of any knowledge of personal hygiene had made the whole population a prey to vermin. For two and a half years, according to Dr. Todd, the poorer classes had been unable to obtain soap or even hot water, so that it was almost impossible to obtain servants who were not overrun with lice.

Many Doctors Victims.

In view of this desperate overcrowding and the prolific tendencies of the vermin, it was almost impossible to escape infection. At that time there were 25,000 cases of typhus in Poland with an average of five to ten deaths per cent. So overcrowded were the doctors with only one doctor to every ten thousand people, that they easily fell victims to the disease, with inevitable fatal results. In some months alone over one hundred doctors died of the scourge.

Lice Fed on Doctors.

The hospital in which Dr. Todd and Dr. Wolbach conducted their investigations had over two hundred typhus patients. In thirty days they conducted twenty-two autopsies, and the result of their investigations lead them to believe that the root of the trouble lay in the lice with which everyone seemed to be infested. The two scientists thereupon began a course of investigation which included among other tests the feeding of lice upon themselves.

Each day Dr. Todd and Dr. Wolbach fed thirty-five lice upon their bodies exclusively. These lice were applied to the arm in small boxes for half an hour, after which they were carefully studied under the microscope. A similar number of the vermin were fed twice daily upon certain typhus patients, being attached twice a day to the leg of the patient. The lice were then prepared for microscopic examination. For ten hours daily Dr. Todd and Dr. Wolbach studied the parasites under the microscope, and for months they examined thousands of the lice before they even felt satisfied that they had found the cause of the disease in the vermin.

Isolated the Organism.

After many disappointments and much experimenting with the loathsome parasites, the commission found in five lice out of one hundred examined, certain organisms which they expected to be the cause of the disease. Finally after exhausting every means, they felt satisfied that they had isolated the same organism in the lice as had been found in the patients. The same parasite appeared in the lice as in man, but as it lived only in the cells of its hosts, it proved a most difficult organism to cultivate. Exhaustive tests showed that the disease is only slight in animals so that practically all the research work had to be confined to human cells. As their investigations proved that the disease is communicated exclusively through lice, Dr. Todd and his fellow-workers feel confident that the disease, at any time, be controlled and prevented.

But although their work in Poland finished on July 9, on which date they left on their return journey to Boston, Mass., Dr. Todd and Dr. Wolbach have a difficult task ahead of them. While their isolation of the parasite marks an epoch in the history of medical research, there still remains the task of studying the nature of the parasite, its change of

ALLEN'S VANCOUVER THEATRE, LIMITED

While the entire issue of Preferred Shares is $300,000.00, the allotment set aside for Victoria and Vancouver Island is $50,000.00. Of this amount over half has already been sold.

We consider these shares are on a very sound basis, and it also offers an unusual opportunity to investors to secure a larger rate of interest than is usual.

The Allen Theatre has been erected at the corner of Seymour and Georgia Streets, Vancouver, and will, it is expected, be ready for the grand opening on August 19th.

The frescoes on the ceiling are almost finished, and the decorative plaster work on the interior side walls is very beautiful. The Hudson's Bay Company is supplying the interior furnishings on a magnificent scale. This theatre will be one of the most gorgeous and spacious in all Canada. The seating capacity is over two thousand. It is generally acknowledged the splendid location is the ideal one in all Vancouver; right opposite the Hudson's Bay new store, alongside the Birks jewelry store building, and within a block of the world-famous Vancouver Hotel.

You may have read that the 8 per cent. cumulative preferred shares carry a bonus of 25 per cent. in common shares, which, it is expected, will pay 12 per cent. a year. Therefore, your investment in these shares should pay you 11 per cent. a year.

To illustrate—if you invest $2,000.00 in 20 shares preferred, you also receive five shares of common free, or $2,500.00 total shares, which we expect will net you $220.00 a year interest.

We will be pleased to send you a descriptive circular giving full particulars if you will telephone or write us. This does not place you under any obligation to buy.

disease may be given to the world of science.

Known to Germans.

The secret of the parasite is believed to have been known to German scientists before the war, for their effective system of de-lousing their troops resulted in the disease being practically unknown in the German armies. But with their customary selfishness, the Germans refrained from giving their knowledge to the world in the great cause of science. Dr. Todd's discovery is, therefore, one of the most important additions made to medical science for many years and is of untold value in its wealth of possibilities. Victoria has reason to be inordinately proud of the wonderful success of one of her sons.

Land of "Comic Opera."

Although his work under the Commission took up so much of his time while in Poland, Dr. Todd found time to study the social and economic conditions of this unhappy country, and his observations are worthy of note. His first impression was that he and his companions had found themselves in a "land of comic opera." The exchange situation made the money seem like stage money and the extraordinary uniforms and the incongruity of conditions prevailing everywhere added to the sense of unreality. For the first time in his life, writes Dr. Todd, he walked, talked, and lived with people who possessed all the attributes of characters from a comic opera.

But it was only in the externals that there was any sense of comic opera. In reality there were all the elements of tragedy. The people were grey-green with the hue produced by prolonged starvation and thousands were literally dying in the streets—a sight so common as to elicit no comment and little attention from the passers-by. To such dire straits of poverty were the people reduced that it was no uncommon sight to see the women walking around without shoes or stockings and with very little covering on their bodies. Although accustomed during his journeyings in Africa to see the negroes in a nude state, Dr. Todd described it more in the nature of a shocking tragedy to see white women reduced to such a pass.

Extraordinary Contrasts.

The Poles, according to Dr. Todd, present extraordinary contrasts to one used to the well-ordered living conditions of Canada. Extravagant elegance, great learning and brilliant social attainments flourish side by side with the direst poverty and stupid illiteracy. As a race the Poles are hard-working, but much of their energy is wasted owing to their employment of the most primitive methods. At present they are suffering the inevitable reaction and are urgently in need of rest after their long period of warfare, so that the country is in a chaotic state, and a ripe breeding place for Bolshevik ideas.

To-day the man of wealth is he who owns land which is productive or who is in the shipping industry, while owners of prosperous businesses are exceedingly rare. So few have the value of the money gone that hitherto, wealthy people are in the direst distress, although their income may be nominally the same. As an instance of this, Dr. Todd cited the case of a baroness who was working as a ward maid at his hospital. She had been forced to take to scrubbing wards for a living in order to eke out the salary of her husband, whose pay as a Colonel in the army was equivalent to only seven dollars a month.

Big Opportunities.

Opportunities for doing big business in Poland, however, are extraordinarily attractive as labor is phenomenally cheap. The highest wage paid to a big healthy man working at the hospital was about ten dollars a month. So much has the Polish mark depreciated that, whereas four years ago the mark was equivalent to a value of twenty-five cents, today a street car fare costs two marks.

Emigration Only Remedy.

Declaring that food must come from the outside to feed the starving millions who are unable to subsist on the products of their own country, Dr. Todd considers the position of Poland analogous to Great Britain. "It makes one ache," he writes, "to see so many hopeless and unhappy people when one thinks of the millions of acres in Africa and even in our own Canada waiting for workers. The Poles are fine healthy intelligent people and would make excellent raw material for Canadians."

Out of a population of 30,000,000, Poland has an army of 1,000,000 in the field. The Poles are real patriots at heart and were enthusiastically self-confident as to their success in the campaign which now threatens disaster unless an armistice is possible. But to an on-looker in the country, there seems little chance of their surviving another hungry winter season. They have been praying for big harvest and unless their prayers are realized, Dr. Todd foresees the shadow of defeat.

Dr. Todd, who paid a visit to Victoria about two years ago, expects to be here again around Christmas or early in the new year to visit his mother and relatives.

NEW BISHOP AT HONGKONG TO FOLLOW DR. LAUDER

The London Times announcing the appointment of the Rev. Charles Ridley Duppy to succeed Dr. G. H. Lauder on his retirement from the Bishopric of Victoria, Hongkong, said:

Mr. Duppy graduated from Keble College, Oxford, with a second class in Theology in 1902. After a year at Wycliffe he was ordained by the Bishop of Worcester to the curacy of Aston. In 1909 he accepted the vicarage of Christ Church, Bradford, and two years later joined the home staff of the Church Missionary Society. Since 1915 he has filled the office of home secretary of the society, with a long period of service in France as chaplain to the forces. Last year he announced his intention of going abroad as a missionary, and recently resigned his post in Salisbury Square to proceed to West Africa.

The jurisdiction of the Bishop of Victoria extends over the Church of England missions and the English congregations in Hongkong and South China, excluding the provinces of Fuhkien and North Kwangsi. Bishop Lauder is well-known here.

INTER-CHURCH DREAM CALLED NIGHTMARE

Need to Get Away From Tyranny of Big Things, Says Yale Dean

Boston, July 17.—The Inter-church World Movement was described as a "noble dream which became a nightmare," and that other similar movements were declared to have "left a dark brown taste in the mouth of Protestant Christianity in this country" in an address delivered by Dean Charles R. Brown, of the Yale School of Religion, before the International Congregational Council. Dean Brown was one of the final speakers of the council's decennial session, which came to a close after a week of meetings.

"We have a sore need," the speaker said, "of getting away from the tyranny of big things back to the ultimate significance of the regenerate man wisely striving in his particular station to do the will of the Master. The Inter-church World Movement, for example, was a noble dream which ought to have become true. It did not, as we all know now—it became a large extent a nightmare. This was due mainly to the lack of wise heads to accompany the warm hearts, furnish more judicious plans and sounder financial methods. "If our recent unhappy experience stood alone it might not deserve remark. But it is a symptom of the tendency which in my judgment has brought hurt and loss to our American Protestantism. The men and religious movement, the laymen's missionary movement, the Inter-church World Movement and all the rest have resulted in disappointment. All left a dark brown taste in the mouth of Protestant Christianity. All made more difficult the work of the regular pastors and discriminating laymen.

"How many more times will the patient, generous people of our church have to be taken in before they realize that they cannot always safely follow the leadership of small groups of religious promoters whose good intentions no one doubts, but whose judgment everyone questions?"

At First Unitarian Church.—Rev. Paul MacNicol, of the First Unitarian Church, Vancouver, will be the preacher at the First Unitarian Church to-morrow. His subject will be "It matters much what we believe about men."

OBLATES VISIT ROME FOR CHAPTER GENERAL

Representatives of Great Missionary Body Have B. C. Superior General

As the pioneer church to operate in this province and one which has taken so prominent a part in the evangelization of the aborigines, the Catholic Order of Mary Immaculate has a special claim to the attention of non-Catholics who are interested in the development of this province from savagery.

The general chapter of this order held every six years will take place at Rome in October, and a number of members from British Columbia and the West will attend. Apart from its connections in France and Belgium, the Order works chiefly in three great sections of the British Empire: in the Union of South Africa, in Western Canada and in Ceylon, while a mission has been more recently established in Western Australia.

The special feature of interest is that the chapter will be held under the direction of a British Columbian archbishop, Mgr. Augustin Dostin, who left New Westminster in 1908 to be the superior general of the order. He is titular archbishop of Ptolemais.

The headquarters of the order, which has sent many leading clergy to missionary work in British Columbia, and some very distinguished men to Canada, including the founder of the Catholic diocese of Ottawa, and its university, as also the late Archbishop Tache of St. Boniface, have not always been in Rome.

Founded by the Bishop of Marseilles (Bishop de Mazenod) over a century ago in France, he remained the head of the order for forty years, but after his demise the headquarters were moved to Paris. The suppression of the religious orders in 1902 forced the fathers to move to Liege, but they only stayed two years, and the order took up its headquarters in Rome in 1905. Archbishop Dostin will be the third superior-general since the removal to the centre of Catholic Christendom.

While there are other orders of Oblates, the Order of Mary Immaculate has been of great value in civilizing the outlying parts of the British Empire.

DOUBLE FESTIVAL IN UNITED STATES

First Assembly Met July, 1620, at Jamestown; Coming of the Mayflower

The United States this year will celebrate the three hundred anniversary of two very important events in their history. One, is the signing of the "Mayflower Compact" and the landing of the Pilgrims, and the other is the meeting of the first American Legislative Assembly. On November 11, 1620, in the cabin of the Mayflower, then lying off the Massachusetts coast, forty-one adult males in the ship's company entered into what is known as the "Mayflower Compact," which bound them into a civil body politic for the better ordering, preserving and furthering of the mutual ends. And it provided for just and equal laws and offices as were necessary for the general good of the colony. Ten days after this, it is recorded, "the Mayflower, carrying 102 passengers, men, women and children, cast anchor in this harbor from Plymouth, England." In the meantime, there had been held, on July 30, 1619, at "James City" (Jamestown), Virginia, the first American Legislative Assembly, composed of fellow-colonists of Captain John Smith the story of whose thrilling adventures, capture by the Indians and release by the Princess Pocahontas, is well-known throughout the continent. This year these events are being commemorated in the United States, England and Ireland. In August the origin of the Pilgrim movement will be celebrated in England. And early in September meetings will be held in Holland in memory of the Pilgrim sojourn there. In September a "second Mayflower," but more modern and seaworthy than her smaller predecessor, will set sail from Southampton to follow to the American shore the path taken by the original Mayflower. This boat will anchor in Provincetown harbor in late September, and will probably be the crowning episode of the entire tercentenary celebrations. Hundreds of thousands of dollars will be spent in the plans for the commemorations. One plan is to erect, overlooking Plymouth harbor, a statue of Massasoit, the friendly Indian chief. Another is to set the Plymouth Rock, which was raised above the tide in 1741, back in its original position. Seventy American cities have started plans for their celebration of the tercentenary, their chief aim being to review the "foundation upon which the United States rests" and to re-emphasize those principles which these ancestors established. — Christian Guardian.

A CHURCH-GOING GOVERNOR

The example of those who are in high positions counts for much, and writes The Australian Presbyterian Banner) it has been a joy to notice from time to time the church-going habit of the retiring Governor General and Lady Helen Munro Ferguson. Every time they have been in residence in Sydney they have been seen regularly in their pew in the Scots' Church, Church Hill, Sydney, or officially present at Divine service in some other church. They have frequently taken Communion in the Scots' Church, as they did on the first Sunday of their present residence.

SPIRITISM AT LAMBETH

(From The New York World.)

The subjects to be discussed by the Lambeth Conference of Bishops and Archbishops of the Anglican Church cover a wide field. They range from marriage and morals to theological problems, and embrace industrial, social, economic and ecclesiastical questions. But doubtless the conference does will excite greater secular interest than the attitude it takes on the relation of the Christian faith to Spiritism, Christian Science and Theosophy. Experts have been employed to prepare reliable data on these subjects for the use of the prelates; and there will be discussion also of healing missions such as that conducted by a layman of the Church of England. The substantial growth of Christian Science and the parallel if less striking absorption of public attention by other forms of spiritual faith and by Theosophy are contemporary religious phenomena of extreme interest. They indicate a popular trend toward spirituality and mysticism contrasting with the prevalent opposite trend toward materialism and unbelief.

But in particular the development of Spiritism a development to which the war gave additional impetus, has reached a point where it may well receive the official attention of the church. A form of faith which more and more enlists the support and indulgence of men eminent in science, by that token must be thought to have merited the consideration of those in authority over constituted religion. Whatever disposition the conference makes of the question, it will at least have won the triumph of a solemn hearing before a high court of religious opinion.

CHRISTADELPHIANS—A.O.F. Hall, 1421

"Salad Days!"

bread should be the basis of warm weather meals

ONE should avoid meat, potatoes and all hot and heating foods these days. Much more cooling and healthful are the many delicious salads, whether fruit or crispy vegetables—lettuce, tomatoes, cold string beans and peas—and plenty of fine white bread such as Shelly's 4-X—the perfect product of the best wheat.

BUT if you must have meat, then the dainty sandwiches—double thin slices of 4-X lined with lettuce enclosing thin cut tongue or ham. See how appetizing they are; how toothsome, too, with the moist bread! Notice how much better you think and work and feel—because of these foods, low in heating fats, high in the energizing vitamins.

Make bread the basis of the warm weather diet— inexpensive and healthful. Order an extra loaf of Shelly's 4-X from your grocer or at our bakery.

give you "title to some choice land" for berry growing or poultry raising.
NO INTEREST IS CHARGED.
Wouldn't you like to know that you had about 10 acres of good land, only $8.00 per acre, close to the city, with a school, stores, etc., as a standby.
When we was asked you could not wait for yourself at better value than you ever had.
Call and investigate. Our representative on the ground will gladly show you over the land.

In First Presbyterian Church, Sunday night, Mr. Inkster will discuss these two statements:

PROFESSOR ALLISON ON VISIT TO CITY

Well-known Literary Critic Speaks on Western Canadian Writers

Professor and Mrs. W. T. Allison, of Winnipeg, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon from Vancouver, and will make a short stay in the city, registering at the Strathcona Hotel.

Professor Allison, who has not been here for four years, is glad to visit again. He is well known as professor of English, a press writer, having in past years been associated with Toronto dailies, and as a literary critic.

Speaking of literary movements, Professor Allison said the most important of the newer novelists that have grown up in the west is Robert J. C. Stead, now of the Federal service, and well known in Victoria. Six or seven years ago Mr. Stead began his literary career as a poet, but has really found himself as a story writer. "The Homesteaders" and "The Cowpuncher," the former dealing with pioneer farming in Manitoba and the latter with Calgary reality and life in the war period, have a big sale. "The Cowpuncher," published two years ago, put Mr. Stead next to Ralph Connor as a popular Western writer, achieving a sale of some 14,000 copies, and is still going strong in re-print form. Mr. Stead is bringing out a new novel this Fall, Professor Allison said. Its title is "Dennison Grant." It is a story of Alberta life, and Professor Allison, who has just read the proof sheets, thinks that it will eclipse "The Cowpuncher" in popular interest.

Winnipeg has three promising novelists in Prof. Douglas Durkin, Hopkins Moorhouse and Will E. Ingersoll. Mr. Durkin was born on a homestead in the Dauphin district of Manitoba, and in his teens worked on the C.N.R. He has embodied his experiences at that time in a story that was published last year, "The Heart of Cherry Mountain." For a first story this was a great success, scoring a sale of 5,000 copies. Professor Durkin is now writing a novel, the scene of which is laid in the Le Pas district of Manitoba.

Journalist Tries Fiction
Mr. Ingersoll is a member of The Free Press staff. His first story, "The Road That Led Home," pictures the life of a prairie town in southern Manitoba. He has written a new story, "Daisy Herself," which will be produced this Fall.

Perhaps the best-known Winnipeg writer is Hopkins Moorhouse, whose book, "Deep Furrows," a very interesting history of the Grain Growers' movement in the West, has obtained a circulation of 17,000, says Mr. Allison. Mr. Moorhouse, however, is not so much a propagandist as a story-teller. He has been writing short stories for American magazines for several years, but his first novel, "Every Man for Himself," has just been published in Toronto. This is a mystery story, dealing with the strange disappearance of a $50,000 campaign fund. It has to do with the methods employed a few years ago by political grafters. Professor Allison thinks that it is the most exciting story ever written by a Canadian author, and predicts for it a large sale.

With regard to other Western writers, Mr. Allison says that Edmonton has two story writers of established reputation in Nellie McClung and Mrs. Murphy ("Janey Canuck"). Calgary has a new author in Sgt. Ralph Kendall, whose first novel, "Benton of the Royal Mounted," was published two years ago. He has written another story, "The Luck of the Mounted," which will appear this Fall. Sgt. Kendall has been with the R.N.W.M.P. for many years, and has a little domain of his own which ought to make him famous.

British Columbia Outlook Bright
Speaking of British Columbia writers, Mr. Allison praises Robert Watson, of Vernon, author of "My Brave and Gallant Gentleman," and "The Girl of O.K. Valley"; Isabel Ecclestone Mackay, of Vancouver, author of "Mist of the Morning," and Robert Allison Hood, author of "The Chivalry of Keith Leicester," published two years ago. Another writer who is bringing out a story in the near future is Ben Toon, of Vancouver.

Mr. Allison is enthusiastic for the growth of literary effort in Western Canada. It will be recalled excellent articles from his pen appeared in The Times last December dealing with literary subjects.
